SHERDEL CARDINALS' ONLY HOPE

TEACHERS HEAR STATE EDUCATIONAL LEADER

SAFER TO FLY THAN TO DRINK ROGERS ASSERTS

(Special To The News)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 9.—Seven people were killed in the whole of America over the week end in airplanes, and the way the newspapers headlined it you would have thought Nicaragua had invaded us.

Yet in New York City alone 15 was killed and 70 wounded with bad liquor, to say nothing about Chicago.

So it's safer to take a flight than a drink.

So much money is being spent on the campaigns, that I doubt if either man, as good as they are, are worth what it will cost to elect them.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Lawrence county Red Cross is still far short of its quota. Officials of the Red Cross urge that contributions be made at once for the hurricane relief fund. The county reached its first quota in fine style, but the quota was later raised, and it is hoped that contributions are increased at once. The need is tremendous.

Heavy registration of voters in this city brings emphasis upon the fact that the voters are to act on the matter of allowing the use of voting machines in Pennsylvania at the coming election. Voting machines would be a big aid in an election where a heavy vote is cast.

Proposition launched in Beaver county for the erection of a workhouse for the Lawrence-Beaver-Butler district doesn't sound so bad. These three counties are paying a large sum yearly to the Allegheny county workhouse for keep of their prisoners.

After the thunder and lightning of last night Indian summer arrived. Street car men who were out at five o'clock this morning said that the temperature was up to 62 at that early hour.

Why can't the rails on Grant street be covered over with asphalt or some other substance that would serve as paving, and give the street a little smoother surface?

There should be some sort of a warning light at the intersection of the interurban line and State street, since the traffic volume has been so greatly increased with the paving and opening of Greenwood avenue. The auto traffic crosses the interurban line at an angle which makes it very easy for an accident to happen.

Apparently the adding machine used on the registration totals for New Castle yesterday was a little short. The registration figures are 13,639, whereas the total given last night was 13,539.

The leaves raking season is again here. Keep the leaves off your front lawn. The city street cleaners likewise have a long job ahead to haul the leaves off the streets.

Pa Newc has long advocated the construction of public tennis courts about the city. Several were constructed during the summer on Boyles field, and the use that has been made of them continuously shows how great a need they fill. More of these courts should be provided in that and other sections of the city.

As Pa Newc has mentioned before every time he has occasion to drive along Atlantic avenue in the Oak-

State School Head Talks To Teachers At Morning Session

Dr. John A. H. Keith Speaker At County Teachers' Institute Today

EXPLAINS SCHOOL PROBLEM IN STATE

Purpose Of School System Is Also Presented; Others On Program

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Dr. John A. H. Keith addressed the second session of the Lawrence county teachers' institute this morning, which is taking place this week in the Third United Presbyterian church of this city. Dr. Keith in his address to the institute stressed the real purpose of the schools and some of the situations and problems that are confronting the state school system in Pennsylvania.

This afternoon Dr. Keith will again speak to the teachers' gathering, continuing his talk on schools and educational conditions existent in the state. Accompanied by Dr. C. C. Green, city superintendent of schools, Dr. Keith made a tour of the various city schools in New Castle between the morning and afternoon sessions of the institute today.

Explains School Purpose

Dr. Keith in his address showed very plainly that he was not an idealist as far as practice is concerned in the supervision of the state schools. He explained to the teachers what the school's purpose is: that it should give everyone a chance; that it should educate for progress, and that

Governor Smith Leaves Tomorrow For Southern Tour

LEADERS FEARFUL OF SOUTHERN VOTE

Governor Smith To Make Only Address Of Trip At Louisville

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 9.—Four weeks from today the greatest electoral army the country ever saw will march to the polls to make the big decision.

With these four active weeks ahead of him and much traveling and speaking still to do, Governor Alfred E. Smith sets out from Albany today on the second of his major campaign tours.

Fears for South

He has made his bid for the West. This time he faces south—into Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, territory that Democratic Presidential candidates of other years have not considered it necessary to bother about. In so doing he has yielded somewhat to the importunities of Democratic sectional leaders who have been pouring their fears and their doubts into the ears of the party strategists in national headquarters in New York.

They have been clamoring for speeches from the Democratic standard bearer in the border states and even in the solid South. On this, however, the governor has been adamant. He will make a personal appearance in Dixie to satisfy the demands of the local leaders, but this only speech of the week has been reserved for Louisville, Ky., next Saturday night.

To Speak on Tariff

There, on the border line between North and South, and in a state that is known for the closeness and turbulence of its political battles, Gov-

REGISTRATION SHOWS RE-DISTRICTING NEED IN SOME CITY WARDS

Serious Concern Is Expressed Over Situation In Some Parts Of City

More Clerks And Voting Booths Necessity For Coming Election

With an unprecedented registration on the books for the election on November 6, a serious problem is confronting the election boards. How to get the voters through the booths before the polls close at seven o'clock will require some speedy work on the part of many of the boards, and in some it is doubtful that this can be done with present facilities.

The matter is one of concern to the Republican county chairman, W. A. Eakin, and in a statement made today he said: "Something should be done to aid the election boards, especially in the precincts of the second ward and in a number of precincts in the third and fourth wards. Counting the vote will be a tremendous task in itself, but getting the vote cast is even more serious.

Reapportionment Hardly Possible

"It is hardly possible that any reapportionment of the second ward could be made at this late date, but it would be possible to install several additional voting booths in each pre-

Girl Flies At Dawn To Avoid Parental Opposition

KATHRYN FALL

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

ALLIANCE, O., Oct. 9.—To become an airplane pilot at 16, a girl must overcome a number of obstacles. And not the least among these is parental opposition.

But to Miss Kathryn Fall, a high school student and first girl pilot of Alliance, parental opposition has been just another one of those problems which the younger generation is so adept at solving.

Kathryn took her lessons in flying while her parents slept. She arose at 4 o'clock in the morning, slipped out to the airport, and a few minutes later was soaring over the roof of the Fall residence. Five lessons and then a solo flight.

Now Kathryn has developed big ideas about the flying racket. She expects to have a commercial license before her seventeenth birthday. Then she plans an attempt for the altitude record for women, and also a non-stop flight cross the continent.

All this from a girl whose friends spent two years in persuading her to take an airplane ride. Yes, the call of the air has been heard by Kathryn Fall. No honeymoon but one by plane will do for her, she declares.

Hoover Endorses Government Plan On Muscle Shoals

Hoover Says Power Project Should Be Used For Agricultural Research

SEEKS TO PROTECT PUBLIC INTERESTS

Next Big Speech For Hoover Will Be Delivered In Boston October 15

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Herbert Hoover stood committed today to governmental operation of the $100,000,000 Muscle Shoals project for agricultural research purposes and the manufacture of fertilizer.

Hoover specifically declared he approved the Coolidge administration's recommendation that the project be dedicated to agriculture. He declared the power developed at the project, over and above that necessary for manufacturing fertilizer, should be "disposed of on such terms and conditions as will safeguard and protect all public interest."

Approves Jardine Plan

The Republican nominee made his position on Muscle Shoals clear after an hour's conference with members of his "board of strategy." He declared he stood for governmental ownership and operation of Muscle Shoals. In effect, however approved the so-called Jardine plan, which dedicated the project to agriculture, but which was rejected by congress last spring.

By stating he favored use of the project "for research purposes and development of fertilizers," Hoover left much doubt as to whether he approved the Norris Bill, which congress enacted at the last session but which was killed by President Coolidge's pocket veto.

One member of his board of advisers indicated Hoover did not approve the Norris plan, which would have given the government authority to operate the project as a "power plant" but turning over all proceeds from the sale of power to be used in fertilizer experiments there and elsewhere throughout the country.

The Norris Bill would have provided for experiments both at Muscle Shoals, with the use of water-power,

Search Prison Ruins For Many Believed Dead

Check-Up At Fire-Gutted Ohio Prison Brick Plant Shows 17 Missing

WARDEN UPHOLDS WORK OF GUARDS

Fifteen Bodies Already Taken From Debris; None Escaped, Is Belief

(International News Service)

JUNCTION CITY, O., Oct. 9.—"Every guard was at his proper post and each did all in his power to get the prisoners to safety when the fire broke out."

With this statement Deputy Warden H. C. Blosser, in charge of the brick plant here, today dismissed rumors that an inside guard on duty in the dormitory which was gutted in the disastrous fire yesterday morning with the resultant loss of 17 to 20 convicts, had made his way to the steel door, rushed outside and then slammed and barred the door against the cursing, fighting men trying to escape the flames.

Door Battered Down

"There was one guard on duty inside the dormitory," Blosser explained, "and he tried to get to the door to let the men out but the press of fear-maddened convicts attempting to batter down the door from the inside made it impossible for him to reach it. The door was finally battered down from the outside and all of those inside had ample time to escape. It is my belief that those who died did so because they did not run to the prison yard at the first alarm but remained behind to gather up their personal belongings and when they did make a dash for the door they were too late."

With men toiling to bring out the charred remains of victims fifteen bodies had been recovered today. Three of them are believed to have been those of John Duncan, negro, Toledo; Moses Broncho, negro, Franklin county and Ray Cooper, Fairfield county. Seventeen others are either dead or missing and it is believed that a final checkup will reveal that none escaped and that the seventeen met death in the fire.

Poisoned Liquor Kills Thirty-Two In New York City

Death Toll In Poisoned Liquor Sale At New York Mounts Rapidly

(International News Service)

NEW YORK Oct. 9—Death toll from alleged poison liquor today stood at 32 lives claimed since Saturday while police and city officials enlisted government aid in the flow of deadly stuff at its sources. Autopsies revealed wood alcohol as the cause of death.

Dr. Charles G. Norris, medical examiner called the deaths suicides. "Accidental of course but the government could do a lot to prevent them by eliminating these poisons from industrial alcohol" said Dr. Norris.

"This is technical homicide" said Dr. Alexander O. Goettler toxicologist at Bellevue hospital, "and there is a criminal responsibility for these deaths."

Six persons have been arrested in the police drive to close the places along the lowest East Side waterfront suspected of selling the bad liquor while undercover agents are understood to have been rushed here from Washington to find the source of the stuff.

More than 100 persons suffering from alcoholic poisoning have been treated at hospitals in the last 48 hours police determined.

Pier Is Allowed For Bridge Across Neshannock Creek

County commissioners have received word from the waterways commission that favorable action has been taken on the proposed North street bridge over the Neshannock creek.

The commission had before it the question of whether or not a pier would be allowed.

The county commissioners showed that the Neshannock creek is wider at the point of the proposed bridge, than at the Washington street bridge, where there is a pier, and the commission has decided to allow the pier.

Bids for the erection of the North street bridge will be opened Thursday of this week.

Atlanta Grand Jury Reviews Charges In Clinton Carnes Case

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Oct. 9.—Additional indictments were faced by Clinton S. Carnes, absconding treasurer of the Southern Baptist Home Mission board as the grand jury convened today.

Solicitor General John A. Boykin indicated a large number of true bills would be asked before completion of the investigation. As many as 40 indictments he said, might be brought from different transactions with banks in which Carnes is alleged to have represented the Mission board to his own advantage. The shortages total $1,000,000.

Dr. Hugo Eckener Scans Weather Reports For Favorable Starting Sign

AIRSHIP PASSES IN FINAL TEST

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Oct. 9.—Because of bad weather over the Atlantic the departure of the super-dirigible Graf (Count) Zeppelin was postponed today. It may take off on Thursday.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Oct. 9.—Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the German super-dirigible Graf (Count) Zeppelin, which is scheduled to start for the United States tomorrow, today scanned weather reports thoroughly so that he could plan his course for the trip.

Everything is in readiness for the start. Officers of the airship expressed themselves as well pleased with the way the big craft handled itself in its final four-hour jaunt yesterday.

Eckener was somewhat dubious over the weather conditions along the northern route and seemed to favor the longer route over the Azores.

All those who are to make the trip have been asked to be within calling distance of the hangar here at all times, so that no time will be lost in starting when the weather appears to be most favorable.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 9.—Will 24 hours of rest bring back Cardinal courage that has flown out of the window; can 24 hours of meditation stop Yankee base hits or put dynamite in Cardinal bats that have been pathetically impotent?

More important still—can Wee Willie Sherdel, of Hanover, Pa., stop the siege guns that is Ruth and the bludgeon that is Gehrig?

Eleventh Hour Hope

St. Louis, grim-faced and sombre, awaits the answer to those questions this afternoon—awaits the answer fearfully as a condemned man clings to the hope of eleventh-hour reprieve.

St. Louis twenty-four hours ago was bitter and resentful. This morning finds a town grown suddenly philosophic.

Once St. Louis and St. Louis' Cardinals were cocky and confident and perhaps just a little bit high-hat. Today they's desperate and sullen and grim. Once they talked bravely of Alex and Haines and Botomley and Frisch.

Sherdel Only Hope

This morning they talked only of Sherdel—Sherdel who this afternoon will stand alone against the Yankee horde; a modern Horatius whose sword is a curve ball and whose shield is a slow one.

If Sherdel wins then there will remain the thin, frayed thread of hope. If he loses—Well, what's one more

Hearst Fired By Detention Of News Man

French Make Ridiculous Fuss Over Treaty, Says Newspaper Owner

PUBLISHING TREATY CLEARED ATMOSPHERE

Secret Machinations Lead To International Trouble, Asserts Publisher

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—William Randolph Hearst today issued the following statement in connection with the detention in Paris of Harold J. T. Horan, Universal Service staff correspondent:

"I do not see why the French government should make such a ridiculous fuss over the publication of its secret agreement with Great Britain unless there is something in the agreement which they are ashamed of and do not want the people of the United States to know.

"I think the people of the United States are already fully aware of the attiude of France toward this country and the disposition of France to make any combination it can in opposition to the welfare and prosperity of this country.

"In fact, I think the publication of this document in the Hearst papers tended to clear the atmosphere and to relieve France of a suspicion in the minds of the American people that the contents of the document were worse than they actually are.

"The American people are opposed to secret diplomacy. They realize that secret diplomacy was largely responsible for the recent great war and they feel that it will be responsible, if persisted in, for another great war.

"I think it might be wise for France to realize that if her machinations and her secret diplomacy should involve the world in another great war, as they are very likely to do, she need not again count on the assistance of the United States to rescue her from disaster."

land district he is impressed with the dire need of sidewalks along the street. There is no place in Lawrence county where pedestrians make a sidewalk out of the roadway like they do in Oakland. And it's a dangerous condition, not only for the pedestrians, but for autoists. Many times drivers are unable to see pedestrians on the road because of lights of oncoming cars. Build some sidewalks in Oakland!

Road supervisors in Neshannock township have given some attention to the road leading from the end of Highland avenue to the Wilmington road at Walmo. All of which makes a noticeable improvement. This road is a much traveled highway and should be kept in good condition the year round.

Pa Newc discovered yesterday what is meant by "duck fashion". Having occasion to travel one of the side roads in the northern end of the county, he arrived in time to find a flock of ducks disputing possession of the road. One by one the ducks crossed ahead of Pa Newc's auto and Pa Newc had nothing to do but sit and wait. And several drivers coming the opposite direction had the same wait. Traffic didn't annoy the ducks. Neither did it speed up the crossing.

We don't know if they allow visitors or not—but Pa Newc expects that they do. If this be the case, go up and listen in at the county teachers' institute at the Third United Presbyterian church. It's worth an afternoon to listen to the speeches. And in case you have more than one afternoon, go up again.

Up at the institute John C. Syling master of ceremonies, reminded the principals, teachers and the rest that they must be at "school" on time, and there must be no straggling in late without a "legal excuse blank". He told them bluntly that he knew what they would do if their pupils came in like they did yesterday at times.

Two of the Pa Newc papooses were up at New Wilmington last evening to see if they were running full steam ahead in the college. They found work progressing on the new main building rapidly. Westminster folks are planning to enter their new portal of learning about the second semester or perhaps before it. The new dormitory, as you perhaps know, which is the gift of New Castle and Lawrence county folk, is running smoothly and houses a hundred young men of green hat distinction.

Speaking of money and other non-entities in the life of the news dogs, the street cleaners rate pretty high at times as far as spare geld is concerned. Pa Newc talked to several of the broom and wagon department, and they claim to find considerable money on the streets. Easy to see, though the average pedestrian goes too fast to notice it, they say.

cinct, and it may be possible that additional clerk help could be appointed. In addition to this I believe that there should be two ballot boxes in some of the precincts, for in my opinion the ballot boxes will not hold 800 or 900 of the large ballots that will be used."

The matter has already been taken up with County Solicitor John P. Lockhart with a view to having more clerks appointed for the heavier precincts. In the fourth precinct of the second ward there are 1,182 votes registered. With the regular force of clerks on and only the usual number of booths, it will be practically impossible for the vote to be cast, as usually nearly half of the vote is cast between 4:30 and seven o'clock.

The first precinct of the first ward has 820 votes registered, and five precincts of the second ward have more than 500 each, some of them running into the eight hundreds. All three of the third ward precincts have more than 500 each registered, and two precincts of the fourth ward have more than five hundred each registered. The first precinct of the sixth ward has over 600 votes registered and the third precinct of the seventh ward has 551.

Action Needed

The present registration again brings home the fact that some reapportionment is badly needed in this city. Some precincts have only a scattering of votes, while others are overburdened. On several occasions citizens have urged reapportionment, and from the present registration it would seem apparent that the second ward should have eight precincts, with perhaps one or two other wards needing an additional precinct. Five hundred votes should be the limit of the vote in any one precinct.

Still Need Funds For Relief Work

Only One Contribution Is Added During Past 24 Hours

Announcement made today stated that the grand total of the Lawrence county Red Cross chapter's hurricane relief fund reached $1,871.29 this morning. But one contribution of three dollars was accounted for since yesterday.

The local organization has been asked for $10,000 for the southern cause and is endeavoring to raise this amount. A number of New Castle and Lawrence county individuals and organizations have responded generously but the need is still present for additional donations.

The fund stands as follows:

Previously reported	$1,868.29
Pat J. Dempsey	3.00
Total contributions	$1,871.29

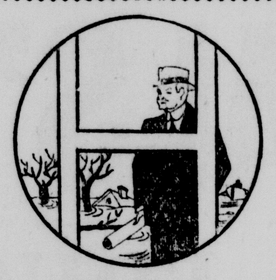
Hoover Alphabet

By MABEL F. MARTIN



HUMANITARIAN:
Hoover Is Our Greatest

No other human being ever had charge of humanitarian enterprises so vast in scope as those which Hoover has organized and managed. For more than a decade of unprecedented disasters he was in charge of the relief work following the World War; collapses of powerful governments, revolutions, birth pangs of new nations, famines, epidemics and floods. In all of these he showed the human side of his sympathetic heart. He cares for everything, even the animals. During the Mississippi flood relief one of the soldiers asked him: "What are we going to do with all these dogs the refugees have brought along?" "See that they are well taken care of," said Hoover. "Have kennels built for them. These people," he explained, "were able to save very little. Whatever they have saved must be very precious to them."

GOVERNOR SMITH LEAVES TOMORROW FOR SOUTHERN TOUR

ernor Smith will speak his tariff views on Saturday night. The entire nation will be in his audience, via the radio.

The Louisville speech is to be preceded by a two-day tour of the country in back—Virginia, North Carolina and Tennessee. All are normally Democratic states.

Virginia and North Carolina have never given their electoral votes to a Republican Presidential candidate. Tennesee strayed off the reservation once, in 1920, when Harding carried it by a narrow margin. Because of conditions peculiar to this year, the Democratic strategists want the governor to exhibit himself to the voters of these states and the governor has somewhat reluctantly consented.

Leaves Tomorrow

Governor Smith will leave New York tomorrow night in the same 11-car special train that hauled him six thousand miles through the Middle and Northwest.

His first bow in Dixie will be at Richmond, Va., Thursday morning.

Governor Smith's itinerary for next week still was undecided today. He is to make two speeches after leaving Louisville next Sunday, one at Sedalia, Mo., and another in Chicago, en route back East.

It is likely that the interim will be filled by having the governor make non-stop speech-making visits to Indiana, southern Illinois and probably Ohio on the way back East. Several tentative itineraries now are under consideration.

Governor Smith plans to be back in Albany by the last of next week to get a few days rest before engaging in the final whirlwind week of the campaign along the Atlantic seaboard when he probably will be speaking nearly every night.

HOOVER ENDORSES GOVERNMENT PLAN ON MUSCLE SHOALS

and in the coal fields of West Virginia, with the use of coal. Norris wrote this feature into the bill after inspecting a huge nitrate plant, operated by the DuPont De Nemours Power Company in West Virginia.

In his statement, Hoover first repeated the declaration he made at Elizabethton last Saturday, when he said: "I do not favor any general extension of the Federal government into the operation of business in competition with its citizens.—

Should Protect Interests

"There is no question of government ownership about Muscle Shoals," Hoover added, "as the government already owns both the power and the nitrate plants. The major purposes which were advanced for its construction were navigation, scientific research and national defense. The Republican administration has recommended that it be dedicated to agriculture for research purposes and development of fertilizers in addition to its national defense reserve.

"After these purposes are satisfied there is a by-product of surplus power. That by-product should be disposed of on such terms and conditions as will safeguard and protect all public interest. I entirely agree with these proposals."

The nominee spent this morning continuing to work on his Boston speech, which he delivers October 15. It will deal chiefly with the tariff and the Republican solutions for New England's business problems.

REDISTRICTING NEEDED

REGISTRATION of voters in New Castle, which has just been completed, demonstrates conclusively that the Second ward, and probably some other sections of the city need redistricting for the purpose of voting.

There are three precincts in the Second ward that show 800 voters registered, or more, and one of these has 1,182, almost 1,200. In the case of the latter, some emergency measures must be taken prior to the coming November election in order that the situation can be handled at all.

The ward as a whole should be redistricted prior to another election. The precincts are too large to be handled by one election board, and even in the matter of registration, it is a difficult task for many of the voters in these precincts to get registered without waiting in line for an hour or more, in some instances.

There is no disputing the fact thatthe Second ward needs redistricting immediately, and proper steps should be taken to have the action taken. Two new voting precincts are needed in the upper end of the ward. This would divide the registration in the largest precincts, and would make the situation one that could adequately be handled in elections.

With the situation that confronts the voters of the Second ward at the present time, and at least one or two precincts in other sections of the city, it should be the aim of every voter to get to the polls as early in the day as possible. Likewise it is the duty of the county commissioners to provide more voting booths in these large precincts for the November election, if nothing else can be done. There is no occasion for allowing the heavy registration to deprive any citizen of a vote, and a closing hour rush, with such a tremendous registration of eligible voters is likely to do this very thing unless voters and officials co-operate in the emergency.

It would not be a bad idea, as has been suggested in other cities that a half holiday be declared on Tuesday afternoon, November 6, in New Castle, in order to allow all to get to the polls in time to cast a ballot.

The heavy registration of voters and the situation that confronts all election boards in this city next month, is certainly not only an argument for redistricting some of the precincts but for favoring the amendment which would allow the use of voting machines.

But, whatever else is done for the coming election, there is no denial of the fact that redistricting of some of the precincts must be provided before another election time.

REPUBLICAN WAGES

UP-TO-THE-MINUTE statistics compiled by the department of labor at Washington give the news that workers in the building trades in the United States receive wages several times higher than those paid similar artisans in the most favored foreign nations. They also show that the real wages here, as measured by their purchasing power, maintain their advantage.

Earnings of American labor today are nearly on a par with those of the abnormal war period and are 129 per cent above those of 1913. Moreover, living costs, since reaching their peak, have dropped 25 per cent. Labor asks higher wages and lower living costs and seems to be getting both.

These are facts to be borne in mind by every worker at a time when the tariff which protects American wage standards is once more in the crucible of a presidential election. Before going to the polls in November labor must decide for itself whether a change of party control at Washington might jeopardize all that has been accomplished since 1921.

Herbert Hoover and the Republican campaign literature have told in eloquent phrase that American labor is by far the most fortunate in the world in respect to income and living standards. But these figures from Washington in all their simplicity speak with an eloquence and impressiveness beyond the reach of mere rhetoric and oratory.

About the only American institution nobody ever criticizes is the dotted line.

The quickest way to win a man's respect is to let him know you think him a wonder.

Thanks, Mr. Wilbur.

Old Hearts Need Care.

BY ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

Congratulations to Secretary Wilbur who has ordered for our navy two dirigibles that will be the biggest in the world.

They will be three times as big as the Los Angeles, one-third bigger than the German giant, Count Zeppelin and each will carry under the great gas bag, five airplanes for scouting.

The Goodyear Zeppelin Corporation will build them and friendly nations abroad are informed that we do not intend to be taken by surprise.

A fleet of such dirigibles each carrying 50 tons of explosive and modern war gas able to unleash 100 fast destructive planes would leave with Uncle Sam's compliments a visiting card in Europe or Asia that would not soon be forgotten.

We make war on no nation but we should be ready and able to fill with subsequent regret any one attacking us.

Mr. Hoover was warmly received in Tennessee and elsewh[illegible]n the south His declarations in favor of a protective tariff and protective immigration laws were heartily applauded.

The south becomes more and more an industrial region, with immense natural wealth in coal, iron, water power and climate. It has long been said that many southerners vote the Democratic ticket and pray for the Republican ticket.

This year many voters will vote as they pray.

Anything approaching a free trade Democratic policy would crack the Solid South with no other complication.

This year however as Mr. Raskob says the Democratic party advocates high tariff and high wages.

James Simpson head and owner of Marshall Field and Co., in Chicago starting for Europe says he is for Hoover and "the purchasing power of the country is increasingly great. Our sales are bigger this year than for any like period in the history of our firm.

Mr. Simpson can judge conditions. His retail and wholesale department each do the biggest business of any individual concern in this country. His wholesale department puts him in touch with business conditions everywhere in the United States.

Mr. Simpson also says: "I do not think the election of Gov. Smith would injure the business of the United States. He is a very fine man and very human in his conduct toward his fellow men."

Gov. Smith is the first Democratic candidate in many years not feared by big business interests.

Golf is good for old men that play as they should, talking, laughing, walking slowly. It's dangerous for those that strain and strive to better their game.

A dirigible the Puritan, made by Goodyear landed gently Sunday on a roof in Washington, remained five minutes, flew away.

That will interest Postmaster New and President Coolidge who have made the postoffice efficient in aviation development.

They will want postoffices in big cities with air mail landings on the roofs. That should begin with gigantic postoffices in New York and Chicago.

Some of the mail now goes by airplane ALL first-class mail will go by airplane soon.

Also passengers will travel more and more by air. Col. Lindbergh announces that the cross-country trip by Pullman car and airplane will hereafter include "Pullman sleeping planes."

Pullman cars will take passengers to Columbus, O., via the Pennsylvania railroad, thence will fly to the coast the passengers sleeping in the plane at night, making the trip from ocean to ocean in 48 hours. That is flying progress.

Big New York with about seven million population and on its way to twenty millions has about 125,000 new babies born each year including 1,052 sets of twins on the average.

The population problem would be complicated but for nature's wisdom that holds down increase in the higher ranks of animal life.

Committees which handle the Community Chest and other drives should read out in open meeting the names of the Indian Givers so that the busy solicitors who are giving their time gratis would not waste that time chasing up people who, experience in past drives shows do not pay the pledges they sign. Of course those active in civic betterment affairs know who most of these people are but it would do no harm to let the workers know. We know quite a few ourselves and will likely get some anonymous letters from some whose chastened spirits have been hurt.

"Well, I studied about it a long time," said the little actor as she bobbed back and forth in a rocker with the telephone on her knee. "Finally I decided I'd have it done. Yes, I think so. Yes. A NATION'S GROCERY BILL

Forty-nine million dollars a day is what it costs to keep Uncle Sam's folks in plain and fancy groceries. One month's grocery bill is $1,500,000,000 or 18 billion dollars a year. Nearly one-third of it is spent for bread, potatoes, fruits, sugar and other foods of vegetable origin. The other two-thirds goes for meat, fish, eggs, butter, cheese, lard, milk and other staples. This E Pluribus Unum family consumes more than 2,500,000,000 eggs and almost 10,500,000,000 gallons of milk a year.

And still farmers can barely make a living. They get one-third of the value of everything they raise and the transportation companies and distribution agencies two-thirds. Is that fair?

The final test of manhood is to wait until friend wife has finished her remarks and then close the door gently instead of slamming it.

The Indian Givers are not viewing with any particular alarm the movement now under way by the civic spirited citizens who are organizing the Community Chest drive, because their signatures on drive pledges do not mean anything anyway.

Republicans Attack Opponents' Stand On Immigration Issue

Claim Made That Proposed Change In Census Base For Restrictions Would Have Serious Effect; Misrepresentation, Say Democrats

Discussion of the immigration issue in the presidential campaign develops vigorous attacks by Republican champions on the proposal of Governor Smith to use a later census than that of 1890 in fixing quotas. It is contended that such a change would shift the source of immigration so as to vastly increase the inflow from southern Europe.

On the other hand, in support of Governor Smith, the ROANOKE WORLD-NEWS (Ind. Dem.) argues: Both parties, in their platforms, declare for restricted immigration. Both declare against undue hardship in the separation of families. It might be argued that the Democratic pronouncement is a little the more definite, but the purport of the two platforms is sufficiently similar to leave no real ground for argument." The WORLD NEWS refers to the fact that the governor favors "a later census in determining the quotas," and recognizes that "there may be difference of opinion as to what census is best to be used," but contends that "whether one prefers the census of 1920 or the census of 1890 as the basis for forming the quotas, the total number of immigrants who may be admitted is not increased. * * * Mr. Smith favors giving to each nationality a quota proportionate with the number already in this country. Mr. Hoover favors an arbitrary quota system, based on a census taken 38 years ago, and which results in giving Germany 31 per cent of our immigration, when it has contributed 16 per cent of our population, and giving the British 20 per cent of our immigration when they have contributed 44 per cent of our population."

Speaking of a "misrepresentation which enemies of Governor Smith have circulated about him is that he believes in letting down the bars and going back to unrestricted immigration," the LYNCHBURG ADVANCE (Dem.) declares: "There was not only nothing in his acceptance speech to justify the circulation of that charge, but he plainly stated that he was in favor of the principle involved in our present immigration laws. Again, in a recent speech, he made his stand plain."

Among those who deny that the two candidates are in agreement is the KANSAS CITY TIMES (Ind.), which holds that the census of 1890 was selected as a basis for the present immigration law "for a very particular reason," and that "up to about 1890, the great bulk of immigration had been from the 'old parent stocks' represented in American citizenship, from the countries of northern and western Europe." The TIMES adds: "If the quota basis is to be shifted to a later census, one less than '38 years old'—Governor Smith has not indicated which later census he prefers—and the 'discrimination' is to be removed, the plain and unescapable result would be the admittance of much larger numbers from southern European countries, at the expense of countries to the north and west."

"Smith is on the wrong side of that issue," insists the ASHLAND (Ky.) INDEPENDENT (Ind.) which recalls that, in its editorial position, it "has consistently advocated retention of the 1890 base of the present law." The NEW BEDFORD STANDARD (Rep.) argues: "Governor Smith wants quotas fixed on the basis of the foreign born in the country in 1910 or 1920. The result of the adoption of this policy would be to decrease the quotas of England, Ireland, Germany and the Scandinavian countries, and greatly increase those of Greece, Russia, the Balkans, Italy and Poland. No quota can be be devised that will be satisfactory to everybody. But if the policy of numerical restriction is to be maintained, and both the candidates favor it, we doubt whether any better plan can be devised than the one now in use. There is a rational ground for favoring the policy which draws our future immigrants from the races that had most to do with settling and developing the country and that best fit into the American scheme of things."

"If Governor Smith is against basing the quotas on our entire population today, and if he is against basing them on our foreign-born population in 1890, he must be for basing them upon our foreign-born population today," asserts the CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR (Rep.) after taking note of the fact that both candidates are against the national-origins provision, which "was put into the immigration law because congress recognized the undesirability of basing quotas upon the number of foreign born in the United States at any particular time, and wanted to base them instead upon the character of the entire American people today." The Cincinnati paper continues: "It may be that the national-origins plan will not work. But a quota system based upon the foreign-born population in 1890 will work, and it happens that that population was fairly characteristic of our entire population today."

"Governor Smith knows," states the INDIANAPOLIS STAR (Ind. Rep.) "that it was not until after 1890 that the hordes of immigrants from Russia and southern Europe poured into this country. They are the alien element so prominent in his home city. Governor Smith knows that what he proposes is to change the quota basis so that more of these will be admitted. And for every one of them added to the immigration list one must be taken from the list of eligibles that might try to get in from Great Britain, Germany, Scandinavia and the other northern European nations. He does not seek to increase the tide of immigration, but to lower the quality."

"Ralph G. Dulen, chairman of the grievance committee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen," says the SOUTH BEND TRIBUNE (Ind. Rep.), "reports after a tour of western states, that employes of railroads in that section are awake to the importance of the immigration issue. * * * If Governor Smith were elected, and his immigration policy made effective, the brotherhood official observes, there would be increase of competition in the labor field for the American workmen."

Dr. Crane's Editorial

GENTLEMEN PREFER WARS

There was a magazine article published some time ago entitled "Gentlemen Prefer Wars."

I never read the article, but I like the title.

Curiously enough men have grown eloquent depicting the horror of war, its blood, confusion and waste. The play, "What Price Glory," is in point.

But somehow or other war is always popular. In spite of all its drawbacks people go into it enthusiastically.

One latent reason, perhaps, is an economic one. They know they will be clothed, fed and taken care of when they are in the army. Nothing so frightens the ordinary man as the prospect of losing his job. He doesn't lose his job in the army if he behaves himself. As far as danger and death are concerned they are not very important in the minds of most men compared with economic security.

Another thing you find in war, in spite of all its alleged tyranny, is ideal democracy. Plutocrat and laborer fight side by side, share the same tent and eat the same chow.

As far as death is concerned most men think less of it than we suppose. It is likely to come to anyone in peace and in war.

The soldier's health is looked after, their living is secure and there is adventure aplenty.

When peace comes, trouble comes. There is no unemployment in any country during a war. After the war, in peace, there were two million unemployed in Great Britain and nearly six million in the United States.

The comptroller of the currency said that deflation in the U. S. A. had cost industry more than the war did. In 1921 trade was at its lowest for twenty years.

What's the trouble?

In war you have four things which peace has been unable to atain.

First, organization, complete and perfect.

Second, a unifying sentiment. Peace has never succeded in making religion, or organized love, as strong as patriotism, which is generally, organized hate.

Third, you have discipline. Everybody toes the mark. Everybody cooperates. If a man blats about personal liberty he is promptly shot.

Fourth, the uniform code is Honor. Men don't work for money, but for something better. There is no finer code of honor than among officers of the army. What would happen to us in peace if that held among officeholders?

SOMETHING JOB MISSED

Whenever there's mention of Job
A truly remarkable man,
Who is recognized, over the globe
As the chief optimist of his clan
I think of the patience he had
And his wonderful fortitude, but
I am fearful that Job had gone mad
Had he struggled to learn how to putt.

Job suffered from boils with a grin
Misfortune could not break him down.
When he lost where he wanted to win
He seldom came home with a frown
But reading the list of his woes
I find they are many, but not
Such maddening trials as those
Which come from a shanked mashie shot.

Job had some vexations, 'tis true
But golf wasn't known in his day
And he never got home with his "two"
And then putted his triumph away
Through the plagues of his time he remained
Forbearing and bravely serene.
But could he his rage have restrained
Had he taken three putts to a green?

(POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT)

For Congress C. Hale Sipe

To Open Minded Voters of All Political Parties:

I believe that any man who aspires to represent his Congressional District in the Congress of the United States owes it to the voters of his District to state his views frankly and clearly on the issues in the campaign. This is why I have requested my Republican opponent, Hon. J. Howard Swick, to meet me in public discussion of the issues to which I referred in my announcement, printed in this newspaper a few days ago. Inasmuch as it is impossible for me to call on all the voters in this District, I shall use the public press from time to time to state my position on the important issues. I shall appeal to the open-minded voters of all political parties. I believe I can consistently appeal to the open-minded voters, because, as I explained in my announcement, I have always made an unbiased study of political issues, whether such study caused me to vote the Republican ticket or the Democratic ticket.

No Faith in Republican Promises to Enforce Prohibition Laws

In my announcement, I called attention to the "astonishing corruption" which Republican Prohibition Director Andrews told the Senate Committee existed among prohibition agents in 1926—that out of a force of 3,800 there had been 875 dismissed for crimes; that not five per cent of the liquor smuggled into the country was caught by the Government; that about 1,720,000 stills were operating; that 500,000 people were making intoxicating liquor; and that 2,000,000 were engaged in various phases of bootlegging. I then said that the condition is no better today and that this appalling situation has come about with the Republican party in overwhelming control for the last eight years. Facts are stubborn things. One great fact all will admit is that the appalling bootlegging and whiskey-making situation confronting the American people today has come about during Republican, not Democratic, rule.

Does any one believe that Mr. Vare and other masters of the Republican party who brought about Mr. Hoover's nomination ever have wanted the prohibition laws enforced or ever will want them enforced? Why look to Mr. Hoover as a champion of the prohibition laws? Soberly and deliberately he tells us we should "look with satisfaction" upon the Republican party's record for the last eight years. This statement of his means, if it means anything, that he is "satisfied" with the WHOLE RECORD. And, if he is satisfied with his party's record, he will naturally think the American people, also, should be satisfied to have the prohibition laws enforced in the same manner for the next four years as they have been for the past eight years. He promises to carry out the Coolidge policies, to be a second Coolidge. He says prohibition is an "experiment."

Surely, if the Republican party really wanted to enforce the prohibition laws, it would have a fertile field right here in Pennsylvania, where the Republican party was born. No other state in the Union has more bootlegging and whiskey-making than has Pennsylvania. District Attorney John Monaghan of Philadelphia, said a few days ago that about one million gallons of alcohol each year, right in the city of Philadelphia, are converted into whiskey. Not only would the Republican party have a fertile field in Pennsylvania for enforcing prohibition laws, but it could have no opposition from the Democratic party, inasmuch as the Republican party is in overwhelming control in Pennsylvania, especially in the city of Philadelphia, and has been in such overwhelming control for more than a generation. Bear in mind, too, that the great Republican state of Pennsylvania was one of the very last states to ratify the Eighteenth Amendment.

Place Hopes in Democratic Party

Now I frankly say why I have more faith in Democratic promises to enforce the prohibition laws than I have in Republican promises. The Democratic states led the movement that brought about the Eighteenth Amendment. The Democratic states are the states in which the most prohibition sentiment exists today. The Democratic platform, in plain language, promises an honest enforcement of the prohibition laws. I stand on this platform.

What I Stand For

I have now given my reasons why I put more faith in the promises of the Democratic party, as touching prohibition enforcement, than I do in the promise of the Republican party, as touching the same matter. I close by repeating that I squarely stand for the honest enforcement of the prohibition laws, the Eighteenth Amendment and all other laws, no matter who may be elected president. If elected to congress, this will continue to be my stand with all the energy I possess, no matter who the President of the United States may be. I had rather go back to the plow on my father's farm than to go to Congress by misleading the voters.

Very respectfully,

C. HALE SIPE,
Democratic Candidate For Congress.

Fisher To Keep Politics Out Of Game Commission

"Will Not Allow Game Board To Be Ruled By Politicians," Says Governor

REFUSES TO HEED POLITICAL LETTERS

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 9.—Governor John S. Fisher today had made known that he intends to keep the work of game boards free from politics.

He outlined his position last night in an address before the Pennsylvania district of the Izaak Walton League of America, meeting here. The governor was emphatic in his statements that the work of fish and game commissions should not be influenced by political methods in appointment of members to the boards or in directing the work undertaken.

"I propose to keep politics out of hunting and fishing, and the work of conservation, I have steadfastly refused," Governor Fisher declared. "To remove from the fish and game commissions members appointed by my predecessor because I wanted it understood that politics is to be kept absolutely separate from this work. And I have received some very ardent and burning letters from political sources urging that I make some removals in this department."

Referring to the use of money collected from the sale of fishing and hunting licenses, the governor continued:

"We must not confuse license money with that raised through general taxes. The latter is raised by law for general purposes and should go into the fund for general purposes, but the license money is raised because the sportsmen of this state are willing to pay in these funds with the understanding that they will be turned back in the work of conservation, restocking and kindred projects and I will oppose any attempt to turn them into any fund for any other purpose."

Damages Asked As Result Of Auto Accident

Suit Of James Davis And Wife Against George Posezi And Wife On Trial

James Davis and wife, Anna Davis of Farrell are plaintiffs in a suit being tried before Judge J. A. Chambers in court here today against George and Sjubicz Posezi of Woodlawn, in which plaintiffs ask damages from defendants on account of an automobile accident.

The accident happened on the New Castle-New Wilmington road. Davis claims that he was driving north on the right hand side of the road at a speed of about 28 miles per hour, when he met the Posezi car driven by Mrs. Posezi. It is alleged that she was under the influence of liquor and that the car was weaving over the road. The Davis car was struck near the rear end and badly damaged. Mr. and Mrs. Davis were injured, but not seriously. Davis wants $158.75, repairs to the car, $100 for depreciation, $75 for a fur coat which his wife was wearing and which was badly damaged, and $8 for a hat which he was wearing. Mrs. Davis also asks $100 for pain and suffering as a result of her injuries. The defendants deny that Mrs. Posezi was intoxicated or driving recklessly.

More thinking with fewer babies would be safe for the white race.

It would be easy to stop bootlegging if the nation really wants to stop it. But the nation doesn't.

The south doesn't want negroes to have gin. Farmers don't want hired men to get whisky. Prosperous industrialists with cellars of champagne don't want mechanics to drink alcohol and get tangled up in swift modern machinery. But they all want WHAT they want for themselves. Therefore bootlegging will continue.

Say, if your car weighed forty thousan' pounds like a big trolley car, instead o' forty hundred, d'ya s'pose ya could stop it as easy an' quick?

"I'll teach these blooming goldfish to snap at me," he muttered grimly.—Answers.

Protest Expulsion Of Journalist By French Government

(International News Service)

PARIS, Oct. 9.—The Anglo-American Press association this afternoon decided to protest to Premier Poincare and Foreign Minister Briand against the order of expulsion of Harold J. T. Horan, Universal Service Staff correspondent whose news beat in obtaining a copy of the Anglo-French naval proposals rocked diplomatic circles.

The association held an extraordinary meeting lasting two hours at which it decided that Horan's expulsion was unfair because he did no more than his duty as a newspaperman in carrying out the orders of his superior.

Many Organizations Endorse Bond Issue

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 9.—The following statement was issued this morning from the headquarters of the Pennsylvania Good Roads association, concerning the status of the $50,000,000 good roads bond issue which comes before the voters for ratification at the general election November 6.

"There seems to have appeared a great hullabaloo over the opposition to the good roads bond issue when as a matter of fact there have been but two organizations in the entire state, as far as we have been able to learn, that have passed resolutions opposing the passage of the good roads measure. Those two organizations are the Pennsylvania Motor Federation and the Harrisburg Motor club. As a matter of fact, the action of these two bodies was far from unanimous. The resolutions, however, had sufficient backing to force their passage. On the other hand, quite a number of motor clubs throughout the state affiliated with the Pennsylvania Motor Federation have ignored the action of that body and have come out openly in favor of the good roads movement. Some of the clubs of the P. M. F. that have passed resolutions endorsing the good roads bond issue are the Wyoming Valley Motor club of Wilkes-Barre, the Lackawanna Motor club of Scranton, the Bradford Automobile club of Bradford, Titusville Motor club, the Galeton Motor club, the Warren County Motor club and the Automobile club of Philadelphia. Other motor clubs that have taken action favorable to the good roads program are the Minersville Motor club, the Mount Carmel Motor club, the Keystone Motor club of Philadelphia, the Keystone Motor club of Sunbury and the Keystone Motor club of York.

"In addition to the action of the motor clubs mentioned, the county commissioners of 57 of the 67 counties in the state have unanimously passed resolutions endorsing the good roads bond issue.

"The veterans' organizations of the state have likewise taken action favorable to the issue. Among those to pass resolutions favoring the project are the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars posts of New Kensington, Oxford, New Holland, Carmichaels, Elkland, Copton, Jeannette, Altoona, Salisbury, McAdoo, Claridge and others whose actions have not been officially reported.

"The state Chamber of Commerce, having held a referendum among its members, leading business and professional men of the state, in which the good roads bond issue was passed by a safe majority, is likewise in favor of the movement.

"The Chambers of Commerce in various towns and cities throughout the state have likewise taken favorable action in the form of resolutions endorsing the good roads issue. They are the Commercial association of Scranton, the Butler Board of Commerce, the Beaver Springs Chamber of Commerce, the Beaver Valley Chamber of Commerce, the Punxsutawney Board of Trade, the Gallitzin Board of Trade and the West End Board of Trade of Pittsburgh, as well as others.

"Highway associations, too, have lined up behind the issue. Those having notified the Pennsylvania Good Roads association of their actions are the Lincoln Highway association, the Buffalo-Pittsburgh Highway association, the Armstrong County Good Roads association and the Warren County Good Roads association.

"Service clubs, too, are taking an active interest in the passage of the good roads bond issue. Kiwanis clubs having endorsed the project by resolution are those of Indiana, Easton, Monessen and Forest City. The Lions clubs of McKeesport, Pittsburgh and Denver have likewise passed favorable resolutions, as has also the Round Table club of Hughesville."

Tunney And Polly Are Enraptured By Italian Scenery

City Of Merano Pleases Noted Honeymooners Very Much; Prolong Visit

(International News Service)

ROME, Oct. 9.—The beauty of the scenery about the city of Merano has so captivated Mrs. "Polly" Tunney that she sent a telegram to her mother asking her and her brother to go there to enjoy the view.

The former heavyweight champion and his bride have remained longer at Merano than any other place they have visited upon their honeymoon. This was due to the double fact that the scenery is wonderful and that the reporters and photographers have not bothered them there.

The honeymooners arrived on Saturday night and were still there today, with every indication that they would remain indefinitely.

They plan to pay a visit to the Italian lakes in the same region—a district noted for its scenic beauty. Both Gene and "Polly" were enraptured over the loveliness of the scenery and the solitude.

It is expected that Mrs. Lauder, mother of the bride, and her brother, who remained behind in Rome after the marriage last week, will go to northern Italy to join the honeymooners.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

WHEN A SAILOR NEEDS A PET

The Gulls, good-natured birds that they were, laughed at this charge of easy-living against them.

"'Perfectly true, Cormorant; we do like to feed on the scraps that the tide strews on the beach! But covering the shores as the tides recede gets to be an old story after a while.

"'We meet a lot of birds from overseas, and they tell us the most wonderful tales of the deep until we simply could not rest until we had come to seek our fortunes upon the waters.

"'And what a good time we have had. We have never wanted for food: besides in addition to the fish we have caught for ourselves the sailors on passing ships have thrown us many a tidbit.

"'Did you ever taste cheese, Cormorant? It is soft and yellow and the most delicious dainty in the world. I know that is the name of it, for only this morning one of the Two-Legs tossed it to me, saying as he did so:

"'"My, how your eyes do gleam, you greed Gull! Here have a piece of cheese!"'.

"'If you had told me that story a few days ago I should never have believed it, Gull,' declared Cormorant. 'I never had the least idea that the Two-Legs ever noticed us birds of the sea. I can't say that they have paid much attention to me, but I have seen how they treated Albatross.

"'Why, you would think Albatross was the king of the ocean—the fuss they are making over him! And now you tell me they divide their food with you! Wonderful!'

"The Gulls chuckled and flapped their wings half scornfully and the one who had told Cormorant about the cheese continue:

"'Not so very wonderful when you come to think about it, Cormorant,' said he. 'The Two-Legs are creatures of the land, you know, and after they have been floating about on the sea for days they become tired with nothing to look at but the waves and nobody to talk to but themselves and, of course, they are glad to see even a bird—it makes something new to look at—something different to talk about.

"'If a sailor can catch one of us—so much the better for his shipful of comrades—they have a pet with which to amuse themselves until they reach the shore.

"'What then becomes of the bird they have captured I don't know—very likely he is shut up in a cage and carried off, as a present to some sailor's sweetheart.

"'What more dreadful fate could a wild bird of the waves suffer than to live in a narrow cage all the rest of his life!'

"'Perhaps when the sailors come to shore they turn their captive loose over the waters,' suggested Cormorant.

I NEVER HAD THE LEAST IDEA THAT THE TWO-LEGS EVER NOTICED US BIRDS OF THE SEA.

Protest Prizes Of Firemens' Parade

Clearfield And Williamstown Protest Judging At Uniontown

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Oct. 9.—Two protests in connection with the awarding of prizes in the state firemen's convention parade here last week are in the hands of the members of the executive committee.

The Clearfield department has challenged Millvale's right to first prize, declaring that the Millvale delegation did not have the required 30 men in line, while Clearfield had 32. The rules provided that the Darktown prize should go to the funniest department having 30 or more men marching.

Williamstown has challenged the right of Middletown for the prize which was to be awarded to the largest company coming the longest distance.

GAINED GLORIOUS HEALTH THRU USE OF NEW KONJOLA

Rundown System Invigorated By This Medicine; Also Ended All His Severe Ailments.

MR. JOHN SOMTAG

The amazing manner in which this new Konjola medicine has restored thousands of people to health after many years suffering from disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels has not only become the talk of the drug and medical trades of this section but is also the subject of much interest to the general public. The Konjola Man at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington street, this city, is daily explaining the merits of this medicine to large crowds of people. A steady stream of voluntary indorsements are received from former sufferers and among the latest to indorse Konjola is Mr. John Somtag, 911 Maryland avenue, New Castle, who made the following statement:

"I am publicly indorsing Konjola because I know what this medicine will do", said Mr. Somtag. "It has restored my health at a time when I felt sure nothing would ever give me the slightest relief.

"Some time ago I was taken sick with a severe case of influenza and when I had recovered from this sickness it seemed to me that my entire system was left in a very run-down condition. My whole body was a mass of aches and pains and nothing that I would ever do for relief helped me the least bit. It was almost impossible for me to get to sleep at night because my nerves were so upset I would roll and toss on my bed for hours. I steadily lost weight and strength until I was a mere shell of my former self. Then my kidneys became affected and I was forced to rise several times every night due to frequent bladder action and all during the day I was subject to severe pains across the small of my back that really made life miserable for me. I was quite discouraged because I thought my case was beyond hope and I would go through the rest of my life in this condition.

"But since I have taken Konjola everything is different and this medicine has made such a vast improvement in my condition that I can hardly realize I am the same person. It did not take a great quantity to produce the results I tried so long and hard to obtain. I have just completed the second bottle and I want to tell everyone that my health is all that I ever hoped it to be. I can go to sleep the minute I get in bed and I never wake up until the next morning. All the aches and pains have disappeared and I am steadily gaining in weight and strength. My kidneys are so much stronger that the night risings are things of the miserable past and those pains across my back never come over me. I have a keener enjoyment in the daily activities and am always filled with energy and ambition. It is a pleasure to indorse such a medicine and I know that others will gain the same benefits that I did if they will only give this medicine a fair trial."

The Konjola Man is at the Love and Megown Drug Store, 204 East Washington Street, New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.

Konjola contains juices from 22 plants—more than other medicines. It is a new compound that works with the sufferer's food, restoring more healthful action to the important organs (stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels) and producing new energy and glorious health in a natural way, thru the entire inner-system.

Exquisitely smooth skin is more important for loveliness than anything else, motion picture directors say. Because their skin must be lovely under the cruel lights of the close-up, screen stars guard it very carefully.

Nine out of ten screen stars use Lux Toilet Soap. There are in Hollywood 433 important actresses, including all stars—417 of these use Lux Toilet Soap. All the great film studios, too, have made it the official soap in their dressing rooms.

"I used to say 'it is impossible—one cannot find a soap of the luxury of imported soaps in America!' Then I found Lux Toilet Soap. As fine as the costliest French soap, makes my skin wonderfully soft and smooth."

Seventy Five Cents Monthly; Wage Of Laborers In Africa; Say Returned Missionaries

Gradually the Gospel is penetrating even the deepest recesses of the African bush and jungle, and in the opinion of Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Seymour who have returned from French Equatorial Africa where they served as missionaries for two years, the work of carrying the gospel to the natives is showing gradual progress each year.

The only whites within miles, surrounded by animal infested bush, imperiled by the malaria germ and the dread tse-tse fly, located 1000 miles from the coast, Mr. and Mrs. Seymour spent two years that will stand out in their memory as long as memory lasts. They have been visiting the parents of Mrs. Seymour, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Thompson, of 113 Crawford avenue, and will leave tonight for Hancock, N. Y., where they will be located for a year's furlough before returning to Africa.

Bring Back Trophies

Some most interesting trophies of the African jungle came back with the two missionaries. The skin of a leopard, the first one shot at their station in the Province of Oubangui-Chari, the skin of a 12 foot constrictor snake, some African baskets, an African kettle drum, some black and white monkey skins, some ostrich eggs, and samples of the havoc the white ants wreak on woodwork, and a varied assortment of trinkets made by natives.

To prepare for their work in French Equatorial Africa required three years of work in London and Paris. In London Mr. Seymour studied medicine, in Paris, he studied the French language and after three years of preparation sailed from Antwerp, landing at Duala, which was formerly the port town of the German Cameroon.

Rubber is the chief industry in the jungle, and native labor is paid about 75 cents per month. Plural wives are common and immorality among the Bondas and the Monjas, the two main tribes, is rife. However, Christianity is being embraced by many natives and the French government appreciates the work which is being done among the natives.

Funds Needed

The work is going just in proportion to the amount of money and materials that are contributed, according to Mr. Seymour. With sufficient funds it would be possible to expand the work rapidly, but because the work is hampered by insufficient funds, it has been retarded somewhat.

During his furlough in the United States Mr. Seymour will endeavor to enlist the financial support of some of his friends so that he may carry on the work more efficiently when he returns.

With them on their visit here are the two children, David, age 5, and Grace, age 3. The little girl was born in London and was left in London with friends while the parents were in Africa. David was born in Paris and was in Africa with his parents. He speaks French fluently.

Their two year stay in the African jungle was most interesting, but as they had stayed the usual time, two years, they came home. It is almost a physical impossibility for a white man to live in the jungle near the Equator more than two years for the climate there saps his vitality.

Hold Meeting Of Convention Boosters Today

Business Men Meet With Legion Committee And Discuss 1929 Convention

BOOSTERS INDORSE INVITING LEGION

Approximately 25 people attended the meeting this morning at The Castleton called for those who are interested in inviting the state American Legion convention to New Castle next summer.

The American Legion convention committee from Perry Gaston post No. 343, New Castle, who were present and explained the proposition to the boosters was composed of Philip Greer, chairman, and members Herbert Pearis, Harry Long, John Slack, Major Guy Wadlinger and James W. Cole. The meeting was enthusiastic about inviting the convention. The records from Uniontown, which had the convention this year, showed the splendid results of such a big convention.

Uniontown had 4500 registered American Legion and auxiliary organization delegates for the four days of the convention. For two days of the convention there were approximately 25,000 legionnaires and affiliated organization members in the city. The last day of the convention, at which time they had the big parade, Uniontown estimated that there were 100,000 visitors in the city. The parade was a grand sight in itself because each legion post represented had its delegation and 69 drum corps or bands in the parade. The parade itself lasted for several hours.

The banks of Uniontown reported that the bank deposits from the current business of the city jumped $500,000 for that week. This increase in Uniontown business proves that the convention itself in bringing such a large delegation of visitors to any city was a high paying business venture for all businesses in the city.

Governor Fisher has extended an invitation to the state American Legion to hold their 1930 convention in Harrisburg. At that time the state will dedicate a beautiful war memorial to the soldiers of Pennsylvania. The committee has unofficially promised Harrisburg the convention for 1930.

Easton, Pa., has extended an invitation for the convention for 1931. They have the unofficial promise of the convention for that year.

These two important Pennsylvania cities bidding for the state American Legion convention so far in advance shows the demand for the meetings. The local American Legion committee is proceeding with plans to extend the invitation. The invitation will be extended at the state American Legion executive committee meeting the first of December at Harrisburg. At that time representatives from New Castle will appear before this group and extend New Castle's invitation.

Because of the fact that Uniontown had it this year and Harrisburg and Easton will have it in 1930 and 1931 it is the plans of the state executive committee to bring the convention west in 1929. New Castle and this 23rd district of Pennsylvania American Legion are very enthusiastic about being hosts to the 1929 convention.

Senior Girl Reserve Recognition Service

Over Two Hundred Girls Present At Recognition Ceremony, Monday

Over 200 members of the Girl Reserve club of senior high school were present Monday evening at the club recognition service conducted in the Y. W. The new members of the club were received in the club with special ceremony.

The Girl Reserve recognition service is an impressive ceremony. All girls present were dressed in the Girl Reserve uniform, white middy and skirt with french blue tie. Officers of the organization are distinguished with the white cape lined with french blue which they wear.

While the ceremony takes place the club officers and chief advisor, Miss Ethel Kelly, stand in a semi-circle around a table on which is the Girl Reserve banner and a lighted white candle which is the spirit of the organization. The old members of the club stand in a circle around the room, each holding a lighted candle, they having previously accepted the light. Girl Reserves belonging previously to Junior High Girl Reserve clubs are then brought in and instructed by Miss Dorothy Long, membership chairman to the officers and club members. Miss Arabelle Cobau, president of the club, receiving them. Then the new club members are brought in and introduced; these girls then repeat the purpose, code and slogan of the Girl Reserves, are accepted by the club members and then light their candles from the association candle, thus formally accepting the light, the spirit of the Girl Reserves. Miss Ethel Kelly, gave the Girl Reserve code to the new girls and a vocal solo by Miss Elsie Calvin was a feature of the service.

Led by the club officers and advisors the girls then march out carrying their lighted candles and singing, "Follow the Gleam," the Girl Reserve song, thus ending the ceremony.

The Senior High Girl Reserve club has a membership of over 225 girls. This is the largest membership this club has ever had.

MRS. WILLEBRANDT TAKES HER FIGHT ON LIQUOR AND SMITH INTO SOUTH

(International News Service)

HARDINGSBURG, Ky., Oct. 9.—Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general, around whom has raged a storm because of her anti-Smith attacks, carried her fight into the south Monday.

In a speech here she called to her defense a Catholic leader, P. H. Callaghan of Louisville, Ky., who directed the Knights of Columbus during the war. He is a dry.

She produced a letter from Callahan in which he declared he had read Mrs. Willebrandt's speeches carefully, and failed to discover where she had referred to the religion of the Democratic candidate or his campaign managers.

"I know from intimate acquaintance that the Methodist church has been fighting liquor and the liquor people for a generation or two, until now prohibition is as much of an institution to the Methodists as the parochial schools are to the Catholics," Callahan's letter said.

"It is very easy for me to imagine that if there was a candidate for president making a fight against the parochial schools, which mean so much to the Catholic church, that it would be in order for any speaker before a Catholic conference to urge the defeat of such a candidate.

"There are so many anti-prohibitionists who seem never to realize that we are earnestly and honestly engaged in a movement to do something for the future generation."

Mrs. Willebrandt said she was attacked by the Democratic presidential candidate because she spoke against his liquor proposals at a meeting sponsored by Methodists.

"He insinuated my appeal was because of his religion," Mrs. Willebrandt said. "He is doing the unfair thing to his church by trying to hide behind it, and make it appear that all of those who oppose him for just causes are really striking at his church. I resent the suggestion that the daily swelling tide of opposition to Mr. Smith may be classed as an anti-Catholic vote. Such a suggestion from him is an injustice to his church and the American people alike. This opposition is gathering because of Governor Smith's stand on immigration, his Tammany allegiance, and his attack upon the 18th amendment."

Chest Workers Are Confident

Advance Gifts Committee Believe That Campaign Will Be A Success

ALL AGENCIES HAVE TEAMS DOING WORK

"Never were prospects brighter for a successful Community Chest drive. The fact that the drive went over the top last year with such enthusiasm is a great help to the workers at this time. More and more people are becoming interested in the work which the agencies are doing."

These were the words of Herbert Peairs, when commenting on the work already done by the advance gifts committee of the Chest, when they reported for the first time Monday evening at the Chamber of Commerce directors' room.

"So many more people became interested in the welfare work last year that it makes the succeeding year's work brighter from the start," continued Mr. Peairs. "Every year finds more and more people enlisted in the compaign, both as workers and contributors, and that is the end to which we are working. We want everyone in the community to become part of the Community Chest; when that point is reached, when everyone in the city is interested, then the agencies will be able to do much more, and better, work than at present. It is a goal to which to work."

The enthusiasm of Mr. Peairs was also evident among the members of the Advance Gifts teams. Several of them expressed the openion that never before had they so many and such good prospects upon which to call. This was the result of a new and better method of assigning cards than was practiced heretofore. The Advance Gifts cards, representing the larger contributors to the campaign of last year, were assigned in approximately the same number to the committees representing the various agencies, and represent approximately the same amount of money. This gives each team the same opportunity in solicitation.

With points being credited for the number of calls made and the amount in dollars secured, no one division has an advantage over another. All are on the same footing and besides working for the success of the drive, the various committees are working for the agencies which they represent, to see that no penalties are inflicted because of failure to make calls, secure the quota or be present at the meetings.

Borah Denounces Governor Smith's Alcohol Schemes

Plan Would Cause States To Become Manufacturers, He Charges

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 9.—Instead of creating respect for law, the Canadian liquor system increases lawlessness and instead of controlling the liquor traffic, the liquor law controls the government and accentuates and strengthens unlawful traffic in liquor, is the statement and belief of Senator William E. Borah of Idaho.

Pointing out the Governor Alfred E. Smith's plan of public ownership, management and control of the liquor traffic is based on the Canadian plan, Senator Borah charges that such a plan would cause the various states to become liquor manufacturers and the bootlegger the easy and successful distributor of liquor.

Every state in the nation would become a Canadian border, declares the senator. He further states that he cannot imagine a more deplorable condition than for the states to engage in liquor manufacture.

France Expels Newspaper Man

J. T. Horan, Universal Service Staff Correspondent, Told To Leave Country

PUBLICATION OF STORY IS CAUSE

By FREDERIC K. ABBOTT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Oct. 9.—The story of the seven-hour incommunicado detention of Harold J. T. Horan, Universal Service Paris correspondent, by the police was given much attention by the morning papers here today.

Horan was arrested in a spectacular fashion in the Rue De La Paix by agents of the secret service investigating the diplomatic "leak" leading to the publication by Universal Service under Horan's name to the text of secret memorandum of instructions sent to the French embassy at Washington in connection with the Anglo-French naval accord.

Horan stated today that after his arrest he was not allowed to communicate with anyone, not even his lawyer and was not relaesed until he had signed a paper in which he agreed to leave France on Thursday. Horan also asserted that he was told he faced a possible five-year sentence in prison unless he signed the paper.

Papers Comment.

The "Echo De Paris" after quoting Horan's statement that he would have been liable to five years' imprisonment unless he signed the expulsion paper went on to say "It's not possible that Horan was guilty of obtaining the document."

"Le Populaire" pointed out "it must be recalled that it has been said that in official circles in London there were intimations that the French government was not entirely unaware of the manner of this journalistic indiscretion."

In decrying the secrecy of the police in the matter the "Ami Du Peuple" pointed to the official communique of the prefecture of the police which it published and which read as follows: "A foreigner was challenged in the Rue De La Paix and given provisional liberty after his papers had been examined."

Some of the papers poked fun at the manner in which Horan was detained by such front page head lines as "A Far West Kidnaping Scene on the Rue De La Paix," "The Return of the Inquisition," and "Seven Hours Incommunicado."

NEW CASTLE PUBLIC SCHOOLS SURPRISE TO DR. J. A. H. KEITH HEAD OF STATE SCHOOLS

Fine Buildings Provided Here Are Cause Of Enthusiastic Comment

School System Also Given Hearty Approval By State Leader

"New Castle certainly has some of the finest schools in the state!"

This was the statement of Dr. John A. H. Keith, state superintendent of public instruction, to The News reporter at noon today following a tour of the various schools and the administration building with Dr. C. C. Green, city superintendent.

Dr. Keith was very enthusiastic concerning the new George Washington Junior high school, as well as the Ben Franklin junior high. He spent some time this morning looking at the work of the trade school pupils at the Ben Franklin and expressed his surprise as well as admiration at the work that they were doing.

Throughout the entire tour of the city school plants, Dr. Keith was enthusiastic about the school buildings and especially the organization of the system here. He was surprised to find so many fine new and up to date buildings in a city the size of New Castle. In most cities the size of New Castle, he stated, there are some fine buildings, but here they are all of the best.

"Your two junior high schools are wonderful structures," was the comment of Dr. Keith. He is a firm believer in the idea conformed to in the junior high schools and was more than pleased to see the progress in this new type of school that New Castle has made.

This was the state superintendent's first trip through New Castle to view the schools here. "I will return to Harrisburg with a knowledge that one city in which I had not seen the schools previously, has a very fine system and organization," he said.

Dr. Keith left the city for Harrisburg immediately upon the completion of his address here at the county teacher's institute this afternoon.

blow to a chin already punched to distortion?

"Sherdel will stop them," murmurs hope.

"Yes, but the Cardinals can't touch Hoyt," retorted judgment. And human emotions play the two.

Good Weather

St. Louis, Oct. 9.—Indian summer weather like that which brought a capacity crowd of 42,000 to Sportsman's Park on Sunday, was granted for the resumption of the world series today by a lazy fall sun which peeped out cheerfully here early this morning.

The fourth game for the world's baseball championship between the favored New York Yankees and the faltering St. Louis Cardinals would finally get under way seemed assured by the weather man's forecast of fair and cooler. The one day's delay made no difference in the betting.

STATE SCHOOL HEAD TALKS TO TEACHERS AT MORNING SESSION

the training should be that which is needed in the locality.

He explained to the teachers the impracticability of some forms of the classical and liberal arts education in certain districts, and thus the founding of the state colleges whereby it was made possible to get training in every field of work, and something which was of a practical value to what is called the labor.

Dr. Keith did not, however, criticize the liberal arts schools which educate for culture. He did, however, state that each had its place and that every type of educating was necessary to prepare the people for life. "A wise use of leisure time should be taught," stated Dr. Keith.

Tells of Problems

In his talk to the teachers and principals Dr. Keith also outlined some of the problems that are confronting the state school system today, the history of the school system, and explained the motives for many of the things that the state has done recently for schools.

This morning at the second session of the county institute the meeting was opened with devotionals led by Rev. A. I. Dickenson, which was followed by music by the institute.

Dr. A. B. Van Ormer of Juniata College delivered a spirited address on "The Psychology of Fads, Educational and Otherwise". Dr. Van Ormer spoke this morning the second time during the program and will continue to address the institute body every day during the week. His address this afternoon will also have to do with "Present Fads in the School".

E. G. Chrieman of the Near East Relief spoke to the teachers concerning his organization. He was followed in the program by Earl D. Brunner of the George Junior Republic school, who addressed the teachers on "A Laboratory Study of Democracy".

Mr. Brunner explained to the teachers the various types of children and persons that are in his school, located at Grove City, and described the actions, causes and the results obtained as well as the methods employed in his "laboratory of democracy".

The afternoon session of the institute began at one o'clock this afternoon, at 1:30 with an address by Dr. John A. H. Keith, Mr. Brunner, H. L. Bland and Dr. Van Ormer also being on the afternoon's program.

Churchmen To Hear Coolidge In Convention

Washington Scene Of Opening Of 49th Triennial Episcopal Church Convention

PRESIDENT WILL SPEAK WEDNESDAY

Several Controversial Issues Before Bishops, Priests And Laymen

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—With several controversial questions before it for decision, the 49th Triennial convention of the Protestant Episcopal church will open here tomorrow. Thousands of bishops, priests and laymen will attend.

President Coolidge will address the convention tomorrow.

Among the matters expected to arouse lengthy debate in the house of bishops and in the house of delegates were:

1—A proposal to ordain women to the order of deaconess, which is being opposed by a group which fears such recogniztion might lead ultimately to the advancement of women to the ministry.

2—A proposal to recognize faith healing as a regular part of the church procedure.

3—The question of upholding the action of the last convention, which voted to abolish the 39 articles of religion.

4—The question of expanding or curtailing the missionary work of the church.

A joint committee, after three years' investigation, has decided to recommend approval of faith healing.

"The distinction between what is pure matter and what is pure spirit is no longer as simply demonstrated as was formerly believed," said the committee's report.

Bank Officials To Soon Know Fate In Pittsburgh Court

Character Witnesses Take Stand, Attorneys Arguments To Close Trial Today

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 9.—Only the calling of character witnesses and arguments by the attorneys remained today before the fate of the three officials of the Brotherhood Savings and Trust company, accused of embezzling $102,500 of the bank's funds, was placed in the hands of a jury of eight women and four men.

The defendants are Roland A. McCrady, who was president of the bank; William J. Kelly, vice president and J. L. Nelson, treasurer.

Each of the three defendants took the stand before Judge J. Frank Graff and, denying that they had done anything unlawful, testified that the proposed deal to buy $102,500 in Liberty bonds at 30c on the dollar, was undertaken for the sole purpose of rehabilitating the bank which they admitted was then in a tottering condition.

They testified a $320,000 pool was formed in which the bank's $102,500 was placed. This money was turned over to Charles E. Knapp, alleged go-between in the transaction, from whom the bonds were purchased. When Knapp failed to hand over the bonds, the police were notified, the bank officials stated.

TITLED WOMEN DEAL IN DOGS

Since the craze for dog racing has spread in England many women of title have taken up the rearing, buying and selling of canines. At a recent large sale in London many women figured as buyers and sellers of greyhounds. Lady Chesham disposer of two dogs for $400, and another woman purchased three, including a puppy, for $365. At the Moorvale Kennels, in Buckinghamshire, girl students are proving in many ways more successful with the highly nervous greyhounds than men. One successful woman student has just opened boarding kennels where she will train racers for their owners.

Interstate Commerce Commission Plans Reopening Of Rail Merger Case

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The Van Sweringen railroad merger case under which the Chesapeake & Ohio will acquire the Pere Marquette, will be reopened by the interstate commerce commission, it was announced today.

The commission assigned for further hearing at a time and place to be fixed later the petition of the Chesapeake & Ohio for a modification of the commission's order of May 8, 1928, to permit it to purchase 174,000 shares of Pere Marquette stock from the Van Sweringen controlled Nickel Plate at $133.33 per share.

The commission had stipulated that the purchase price for this stock should not exceed $110 per share.

At the forthcoming hearing the Chesapeake & Ohio will also urge the commission to modify its original findings in the merger case to the extent that it may sell 300,000 shares of its own new stock to its present stockholders at $100 per share. Controversy Over Meaning Of Will Of Jennie Stoughton

Sisters Of Decedent Claim Judson Barteaux Has Not Right To Sell Property

Controversy over the will of the late Jennie Stoughton is being heard before Judge Hildebrand today in the case of Clara M. Ellis, Roberta Estep, Nettie Lutton and Pearl Huston against Judson E. Barteaux. Plaintiffs in the case are sisters of the decedent.

The will, which was read to the jury this morning, is not very clear as to the disposition of property on Hiram Way, consisting of a six room house. In the will, Miss Stoughton bequeathed Barteaux, all her household furniture and other property not specifically named otherwise, for life. At his death it is to go to the sisters.

Further down in the will a lot on Lorain street, and some government securities are mentioned. They are to be conversed into cash and the money distributed to the sisters. The Hiram Way real estate is not specifically mentioned, but it is claimed by Barteaux that it is included under the clauses, "all other property not particularly mentioned."

Some time ago Barteaux advertised the real estate on Hiram Way for sale, but upon petition of the plaintiffs in this case, the sale was stayed. It is claimed by them that Barteaux has no right to sell the property and that the proceeds, or rentals should belong to them. Barteaux has been occupying the property since Miss Stoughton's death.

Ticket Scalpers Have Tough Time

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9.—"It's worth thirty dollars, but you can have it for three."

Thus spoke a ticket scalper in St. Louis hotel lobby today as he strove desperately to unload a cargo of $5 tickets for the fourth game of the world's series. Here and there a faint hearted scalper offered a ducat for $2.50 and even $2.00. Tickets for the third game here netted the scalpers as much as thirty dollars a throw.

The bottom has fallen out of the ticket market.

School Teachers Hear Addresses

Over 300 County Teachers Listen To Instructors At County Institute

HAVE SESSIONS IN EAST SIDE CHURCH

Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Third United Presbyterian church on the corner of East Washington and Adams streets, the first speaking session of the 75th Lawrence county school teacher's institute opened with devotionals and was followed with songs by the institute and a group of three speakers. Three hundred and six teachers and principals in the county schools exclusive of New Castle and Ellwood City attended this session.

Institute Sessions Open

Although the institute officially started yesterday morning, the entire forenoon was spent in registration and the actual program of the institute did not begin until afternoon. With more teachers and better schools throughout the county, the institute has this year assumed a greater aspect than ever and is of educational significance.

Devotionals were led by the Rev. S. B. Copeland. In his short talk, the Rev. Copeland stated that the teacher needed devotionals more than in the first session in the morning, that to do the right work and the best work, a devotional period must last all day in the class room.

Music for the institute was led by H. L. Bland of the Clarion State Normal school. A group of songs are sung at intervals by the institute body under the direction of Mr. Bland. At this point, Mr. Bland led a series of group songs by the teachers.

Syling Presides

County superintendent John C. Syling, president of the institute, then introduced to the audience of teachers, Dr. A. B. Van Ormer, professor of philosophy in Juniata college. Dr. Van Ormer chose to speak to the institute on the subject, "The Chief Aim and the Greatest Need in Education."

In this address, Dr. Van Ormer stressed the point that "character was the main aim in education in the secondary and primary schools and that it was primarily the point which teachers should strive to impress upon the pupil. He stated further that the human being should not be educated so as to get out of work but so that he might work better. This he says, destroys a time worn description of what education does for a person. Dr. Van Ormer also expressed his desire that the teachers would cooperate with the pupil as far as humor is concerned. "Humor," stated Dr. Van Ormer, "must be a part of the curriculum to keep the teacher and pupil and in a common bond."

The address of Dr. Van Ormer was well received by the school men. They will have the opportunity to hear Dr. Van Ormer speak each day of the institute on a series of related subjects on the various phases of school work.

Music Address

H. L. Bland, director of music for the institute and speaker for the musical side of school work, then gave a very interesting and instructive talk, illustrated with bits of music and song composition by the institute, on "Making a Song." Mr. Bland will also address the institute on subjects pertaining to music during the week.

At this point in the afternoon's program, a 10 minute intermission followed. The various teachers met in a sort of reunion in the church vestibule and enjoyed an informal period for the few minutes prior to the resuming of the remainder of the afternoon's program.

Following the renewal of the program, Superintendent John C. Syling explained to the institute that Dr. J. Linwood Eisenberg of Slippery Rock State Teachers college had found it impossible to attend the meeting and to make the address for which he was scheduled.

However, Dr. T. C. Blaisdell of the same teaching institution would speak in his stead, announced Mr. Syling. Dr. Blaisdell then took the platform and gave the institute a choice of subjects. The audience chose, "Relation of Teacher and Pupil." This subject was well defined by Dr. Blaisdell, a man of sufficient school experience and teaching to know the solving of the intricate problems that do arise between the teacher and pupil.

He stated that the two major parties in school, namely the pupil and teacher, should have a common bond and that their work should not be so widely varied as to have no common understanding. Teacher help is the need of the pupil in succeeding with his school work as well as teacher understanding, stated Dr. Blaisdell.

This year's institute in undoubtedly one of the most complete of any that have ever taken place in the county. A full week's program is arranged with a number of noted educational leaders on the list of speakers.

The institute is in charge of county superintendent of schools John C. Syling and his assistant, Charles F. Ball.

Members of the Advance Gifts committee, through the director of the campaign, Herbert Peairs, ask that the residents of the city make their pledges to the chest the first time they are approached. This is done for two reasons: that the men and women who make pledges are busy, and the solicitors do not wish to call on any person more than once. And, the Advance Gifts committee is composed of busy men and women, who are giving their time as well as their money to the success of the campaign.

Missionary Talks Feature Convention At Central Church

Varied Experiences Told By Returned Mission Workers From Tibet And China

The sixth annual series of one-day missionary conventions of the churches of Christ was held in this city yesterday at the Central Christian church with large representations from the churches, came to a successful close last evening with a banquet at 6:30.

A rousing missionary address was given by Marion H. Duncan who with his family when returning home a few months ago was robbed by Tibetan bandits of nearly everything they had, were compelled to sleep on the ground in the rain with nothing to cover them, endured many hardships for months and had so many experiences that no mortal tongue can tell it all. Mrs. Duncan has not yet recovered from her experiences and yet the Duncans are anxious to return to Tibet next spring to continue the splendid work that has been begun.

Miss Daisy June Trout showed herself a masterful hand in leading this team in these conferences which are being held by 15 teams in the United States and part of Canada during the next two weeks. Dr. Elliot I. Osgood, a missionary for over 30 years in China was able in his unique way to clearly present the situation of the great country. H. A. Denton, state secretary came in for his part of the program by presenting the aims of the state for the year and urged that the churches respond to the task that lies before it.

Miss Mary Shelldrake of Beaver Falls, a religious educational worker told in a brief way the general improvement in religious education among the churches. Mr. Fitzpatrick represented Bethany college and held before the convention the duty of the churches in supporting the college for the good it would do them.

WOMEN SHOULD VOTE DURING EARLY HOURS

While there is some agitation on at the present time to add polling booths and ballot boxes to the crowded election precincts, the voters themselves can aid materially in getting the vote cast in these precincts.

It has been suggested that housekeepers get out and vote in the less crowded hours and thus make way for mill men, office men, business women and men and women in the professions. If every housekeeper in the city planned to get her vote cast before three in the afternoon it would aid materially.

Usually the hours most crowded at the polls are seven to nine in the morning, 11 to one and then the big rush from four to seven. This rush is caused because men and women who are employed have no other time to vote, and they must get in at these hours or not at all. This is particularly true of the period from four to seven, when the mill men and shop men get through their daily work.

There seems to be little reason why housekeepers and those people who are not in stores, offices or shops cannot vote before three o'clock. It would seem to be a matter that could well be adopted by the various women's clubs in the city and the matter brought before every woman's organization in an effort to facilitate the casting of the heavy vote which is now certain.

In What Agricultural Product Does Lawrence County Lead Rest?

What is the agricultural product which Lawrence county leads all the rest of the 67 in Pennsylvania? All boast some lead, it seems. What is your opinion based, of course, on statistics.

Following are some of the boasts from other counties.

Adams produced the most apples in 1927.

Berks produced the most oats, and led in the production of rye.

Bradford raised the most buckwheat and produced the most honey.

Bucks grew the most pears.

Chester secured the highest yield of oats per acre.

Delaware produced the most hay per acre.

Franklin produced the most peaches.

Greene led in the number of sheep and amount of wool produced.

Lancaster led in 1927 in total production of corn, wheat, tobacco and hay; in acre yield of corn; in number of milk cows and total milk produced; in number of chickens on farms and eggs produced, and in number of horses.

Lehigh produced the most potatoes.

Montgomery had the highest yield of potatoes per acre.

Philadelphia county produced the most wheat per acre.

Potter secured the highest yield of rye per acre.

Birth control is easy enough; the hard part is to control them for 15 years after birth.

Fruit Dealers Should Attend Grading Tour

Three Stops Will Be Made In Lawrence County; Show How To Grade

EXPECT IMPROVEMENTS TO RESULT FROM TOUR

Penn State Men Will Grade Apples, Potatoes And Eggs For Consumers

That all retail grocers and fruit dealers, together with wholesalers in the same lines, should pay particular attention to the Grading Tour, sponsored by the New Castle Chamber of Commerce, the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Association, the Pennsylvania State College, and the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce, which will stop in the county three times Thursday, October 11, is the advice of Fred L. Rentz, vice president and general chairman of the Chamber's agricultural committee, and Ira M. Ramsey, president of the Chamber.

Improvement in the quality of apples, potatoes and eggs for consumers in the greater Pittsburgh district is expected as a direct result of this grading tour according to Mr. Rentz.

H. R. McCulloch, advisor for the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Association, is cooperating in this tour by fixing for places of meeting for Thursday. The itinerary for the tour in Lawrence county is as follows:—

10 a. m. Thursday, October 11 at the George Friday farm, Ellwood City, Pa.; 2 p. m. at the Rankin Johnson farm, New Wilmington, Pa.; 8 p. m. at the Daniel Byler farm, Mt. Jackson, Pa.

Will Learn Grading.

Mr. Rentz explains that the producers of such products in Lawrence County will learn from this tour the exact way to grade their products and thus make them available for the local demand. After the proper results are obtained from these demonstrations the products of Lawrence County can be sold and distributed in our own territory. Such a proceedure or distribution would be beneficial to the Lawrence County producers and also to the Lawrence County consumers. It will increase the local consumption of local products thus increasing the profit of the producers and enable the consumer to purchase fresh locally produced products.

Nicholas Schmitz, in charge of agronomy extension at State College, will grade potatos; H. H. Kauffman, extension poultry-man, will grade eggs, and J. L. Mecartney, fruit extension specialist, will grade apples on the tour. A commission man from Pittsburgh will accompany the tour to show how grading aids in meeting market demands.

Press Of France Thinks Bougrat Should Be Freed

French Physician Escaped From Guiana Penal Colony; Seeks Retrial

HAD DEAD MAN IN HIS CLOTHES CLOSET

PARIS, Oct. 9—The French press has suddenly become persuaded of the innocence of Dr. Bougrat, who a year ago was sent to French Guiana for life, for the murder of a patient.

At the time of his conviction the papers seemed convinced of his guilt. However, a few weeks ago it was announced that he had managed to escape from Guiana, and now the interesting question is whether he will be pardoned, or at least given a new trial, before he is recaptured and taken back to the penal colony.

The case of Bougrat was apparently clear. One day, quite by accident, a corpse was found in his clothes closet. It had evidently been there for months, and all the while Bougrat had continued his medical practice.

The victim was identified as a former patient of Bougrat, who had disappeared one day together with a large amount of money belonging to his employer. The employer had supposed all along that his employe had merely eloped with the cash.

Bougrat was of course arrested and asked to explain the presence of the corpse. He declared that the victim had simply died one day in his office, for no apparent reason, and that being somewhat agitated by this happening he thought best to hide the body and say nothing about it.

The trial brought out that Bougrat had had other difficulties with the police previously, and furthermore was extremely hard up just before the "murder," and comparatively well off after it. Altogether it seemed clear that he had killed the man by giving him poison through a hypodermic needle.

The weakness in this case, it is now alleged, is that autopsy failed to disclose any poison, or any sign of violence, and most people now believe Bougrat's story, fantastic as it looks, was correct. If so, he could only be guilty of concealing a corpse, which is a relatively trivial offense in France.

Sends Clipping Of Storm In Florida

Allan Langdon Of New Smyrna, Writes Of Storm To His Mother

The extent of the Florida hurricane was graphically told by Allan Langdon of New Smyrna, Florida, who sent two press clippings and a press photograph, all descriptive of the storm, to his mother, Mrs. B. B. Langdon, of Euclid avenue.

Mr. Langdon, a former New Castle boy, has been in Florida for over three years. New Smyrna, his new home, was not so badly damaged by the storm, but Belle Glade, a little farming center a short distance from his home, was almost annihilated.

"New Smyrna," one of the press clippings states, "again has had it demonstrated that it is the favorite spot of the universe. Although this community suffered considerably during the storm . . . . the total damages in this community were very light when compared with sections to the south, west and north of us."

Well, it's now about time to begin laying something aside each day for the Thanksgiving turkey.— The Louisville Times.

SEVENTY FIVE IN ORATORIO CLASS

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 9.—More than 75 men and women students at Westminster College reported to Professor Alan B. Davis for oratorio society tryouts last evening. Of this number, a large percentage have had oratorio experience last year, while a number of freshmen competitors have had similar experience in high school singing groups.

The Oratorio society, a combination of the men's and women's glee clubs, plans to produce two oratorios during the college year, one of which will be the "Hallelujah Chorus." In all probability, the first oratorio will be presented some time this winter, while the second will be presented during commencement week as one of the activities of graduation.

Seemed To Help Whole Nervous System, He Says

New Castle Man Claims He Was Greatly Benefited By Ten Herbs.

"Ten Herbs seemed to benefit my whole nervous system," was the recent statement of Mr. James H. Mackey, 1911 Hamilton Street, New Castle, to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, New Castle, where he is daily demonstrating this celebrated new herbal compound. "My general health has been vastly improved, since using your medicine," continued Mr. Mackey, who is 68 years of age, and an ironworker.

"I used to be so nervous that I dreaded to go to work, or meet friends. My appetite was poor, and I was troubled with indigestion. No matter what I ate, gas formed and gave me a bloated feeling. Gas also caused pains and aches. Sometimes I would try to vomit to get a little relief from pain and bloating. I was bothered with loss of sleep, and had a thick mucus in my throat on arising. Bilious spells came on me, and I would become very dizzy. My skin was of a yellowish tint, and I had splitting headaches. There were pains in my back, and I often had to arise at night. In fact, I was in a completely run-down condition.

"I had been reading about Ten Herbs in the paper, and knew some of the persons who stated that they were benefited by your medicine. I made up my mind to give Ten Herbs a trial. I am glad I did, for the first bottle relieved me of gas. My appetite improved, and I was able to digest my food properly. My nerves were quieted, and I could enjoy a good night's sleep. The pains are gone from my back, and I do not have to arise at night. My liver seems to function as it should, and dizzy spells have disappeared. I recommend Ten Herbs unconditionally to anyone who needs a good medicine to build up their health."

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

Do Not Commit Suicide By Inches By Over-Eating And Over-Smoking Is State Health Head's Warning

"The other day a man picked up the paper and then pitied a silly fellow who, according to the news report, had seen fit to commit suicide. Yet this same criticizing gentleman is just as effectively, though of course much more deliberately and entirely unconsciously, shortening his life by inches," said Dr. Theodore B. Appel, State Secretary of Health, today.

"He has made a lot of money. He consequently illogically imagines that because he has done so and is the possessor of a fine automobile and good chauffeur that he is required to use it exclusively in place of natural locomotion. True, it is easy going, but if his legs and other body muscles could talk they would undoubtedly tell him to use them a great deal more and the automobile a great deal less.

"Then too, lacking every kind of physical exercise, this same fellow, three times a day, eats and eats until he can't eat any more. Again, if his stomach could make him understand it would undoubtedly say, "Don't use me so hard. Neither I nor your body needs more than one-third of the food you are giving it. Stop acting this way or we will stop you."

"Moreover, this individual undersleeps, he over-smokes and relies upon laxatives instead of physical exertion to keep the alimentary system in trim. In short, this 'wise' person so disdainful of suicide is, through his own actions, definitely abbreviating his life.

"There are many people who are indulging in habits of living that tend to bring their existence to a close sooner than naturally should be the case. There may be only one or two practices involved. And it is safe to say that these habits which are contrary to nature are not worth the price in lack of energy, lack of joy of living and lack of time in which to live, that are being paid for them.

"Suicide and the deliberate shortening of life by indulging in habits that are against the fundamental rules of nature are not so far apart as the average person considers them to be."

MOTHER AND THREE CHILDREN DEAD IN CHICAGO BY FUMES

The husband could advance no motive for the act. He said his wife was a highly nervous temperament and might have suddenly gone insane. He said they had no quarrels and that when he left home his wife was in the best of spirits.

Road Bond Issue Value Questioned

Enough Money Is Available Now To Build 736 Miles Of Road Per Year

MOTOR FEDERATION OPPOSES INCREASE

By WILLIAM B. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Oct. 9.—Richard C. Haldeman, chairman of a special committee appointed to study the need of the proposed $50,000,000 highway bond issue, today issued a statement detailing why the Pennsylvania Motor Federation will oppose it.

The Haldeman statement contains definite financial information obtained from the Department of Highways concerning receipts and expenditures. It also carries a comparative table showing the Department's budget for the present fiscal year and what is called the "true budget."

The "true budget" of the Federation includes $13,500,000 of receipts which are not shown in that made public by the Department. The Federation lists a $5,000,000 balance at the beginning of the present year which was ignored completely as an asset.

The Federation also lists $3,500,000 which is being taken from the Department's funds for the construction of a new office building which Governor John S. Fisher has promised the next legislature will return to the proper account. In addition, another $5,000,000 is listed in the "true budget" as the amount which will be paid by counties and townships as their share of roads built by the Department.

The total of the Federation's "true budget" is placed at $65,550,000 which Haldeman asserts is more than the Department will be able to spend wisely even on the basis of a maximum construction record.

On what is called "conservative basis" the estimated amount available for new construction during the next five years is $184,090,692. At an average cost of $50,000 a mile this amount would permit the construction of 3,681 miles, a yearly average of 736 miles. Even when the Department had available the two previous $50,000,000 bond issues it never built more than 600 miles in a year.

With enough money available for the construction of 736 miles of improved road each year Haldeman questions the advisability of mortgaging the State for another $50,000,000 and asserts that his opinion has been supported by the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth.

"My Hair Is a Fright"

Edna Wallace Hopper, the stage favorite, in her sixties still graces the footlights with the vivacious charm of a flapper. She knows the art of a lovely appearance. Miss Hopper in an interview remarks that women always apologize when trying on a new dress or hat. How many of them say, "Of course, it will look better when my hair is in decent shape."

So it is well to know that you can always keep your hair looking its best. Even the trying heat-record days of summer need not dismay you.

Miss Hopper with some forty years of stage work behind her, knows the tricks of attracting. Among the most important she rates a fresh, lovely wave. She has found the perfect curling fluid to keep your hair alluring regardless of circumstances.

Wave and Sheen, she calls it. A liquid dressing which is a godsend, especially during the summertime. It not only preserves the wave but gives your hair a soft, fascinating sheen. Try it on your freshly shampooed hair.

Money back if you are not delighted.

At all toilet counters, 75 cents.

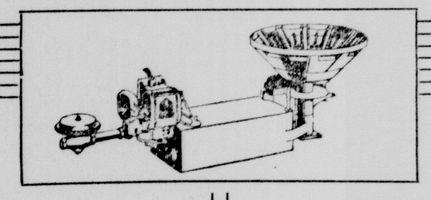
A NEW WAY to heat your home

that is trouble-free, clean, economical, safe



The Surface Combustion Gas Heating Machine meets all the objections that have been brought against ordinary heating methods. For instance why should anybody in New Castle do the manual work of keeping his house warm?

Why bother with storing fuel; why pay for it in advance; why deliberately bring into your house fuel that is dirty, gives off a black dust, leaves another finer dust as ashes, when it burns? Why charge the minds of several people with keeping the fire going 24 hours per day; during temporary absences?

It is all unnecessary!

Heating with gas the Surface Combustion Gas Heating way, is as modern as the new car models. It meets every objection against old fashioned heating methods. It is trouble free; requires no attention from early Fall until late Spring. It is clean. You pay only as you use the gas. Because of the scientific principle of operation, it is most economical. It requires no new furnace or boiler but slips into your present equipment on removing the grate bars. Its cost is low, $175 cash installed; or $15 down and 18 months to pay the balance, with a $10 carrying charge.

STANLEY McCORMICK IS SEEKING PARDON

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Attorney General Sargent, Monday, had under consideration an application for the parole of Stanley McCormick, sentenced to 18 months in Leavenworth prison for conspiracy and possession of stolen mail matter in the federal courts at Minneapolis.

No immediate decision was anticipated. Three months ago McCormick was recommended for parole by the Leavenworth parole board, but his release was vetoed by the attorney general.

MUST-A CUT CLASSES

"You say you went to a school of stenography?" inquired the boss of the new typist as he glanced over the letter she had written.

The TWENTIETH CENTURY MOLOCH

Moloch was a fire god. Ages ago parents cast their children into his lap—hoping thus to gain the favor of this deity.

Inhuman! Ghastly! But no more so than today's mad sacrifice to fire—that carries not even the hope of reward the pagans had. About half a billion dollars a year direct loss; a yearly toll of 15,000 lives to make the record gruesome. The Presidential proclamation preceding is sufficient evidence of the seriousness of the country's avoidable fire waste.

The solution to this problem is a community matter. More than six hundred cities and towns have committees on fire prevention and control. These function effectively all year.

Stimulated by the President's proclamation, thousands of communities, through civic bodies, business organizations, schools and other means, observe Fire Prevention Week.

In support of such movements the Stock Fire Insurance companies, through the National Board of Fire Underwriters and affiliated organizations, have long maintained staffs of engineers and experts in fire prevention. These facilities are offered free to any community, that the spirit of Fire Prevention Week may be further promoted year by year.

Public cooperation with the Stock Fire Insurance companies has already effected a reduction in the annual fire waste, and continuous reductions in the cost of fire insurance for practically twenty years.

The 224 Stock Fire Insurance companies constituting the National Board of Fire Underwriters invite the cooperation of each community in a careful study of its needs in the prevention and control of fire. They offer free the staff of engineers, the Arson Bureau, and other facilities. Information on this subject will be gladly furnished by

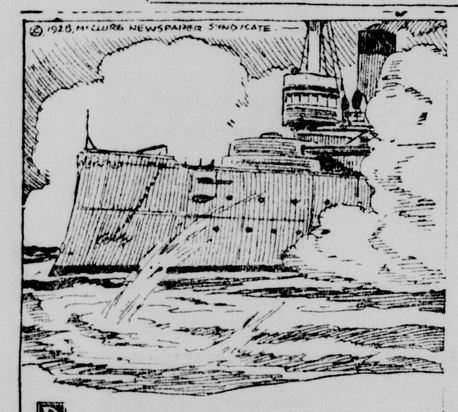
HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

The Story Of Our War With Spain
The Americans Attack Manila

WHEN THE PRELIMINARY PEACE AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND SPAIN WAS SIGNED, AUGUST 12, 1898, DEWEY'S SQUADRON AND MERRITT'S ARMY, HOLDING MANILA BAY AND CAVITE IN THE DISTANT PHILIPPINES, WERE PREPARING TO ATTACK THE CITY OF MANILA.

DUE TO THE FACT THAT THE TELEGRAPH CABLES HAD BEEN CUT, MAKING IT NECESSARY TO RELAY CABLEGRAMS FROM HONGKONG BY BOAT TO THE PHILIPPINES, THE ORDERS DIRECTING A CESSATION OF HOSTILITIES DID NOT REACH MANILA UNTIL AFTER THE CITY HAD FALLEN INTO THE HANDS OF THE AMERICANS. A LITTLE AFTER 8 O'CLOCK ON AUGUST 13, ADMIRAL DEWEY SENT A MESSAGE TO THE SPANISH CAPTAIN-GENERAL DEMANDING THE SURRENDER OF THE CITY.



DEWEY GAVE THE SPANIARDS ONE HOUR IN WHICH TO COMPLY WITH HIS DEMAND AND WHEN THEY FAILED TO CAPITULATE, SIGNALLED THE SHIPS OF HIS SQUADRON TO COMMENCE FIRING.

THE FIRST SHOTS WERE PURPOSELY DROPPED SHORT OF THEIR MARKS TO WARN THE ENEMY THAT WE WERE NOT MAKING IDLE THREATS AND TO GIVE HIM A CHANCE TO CHANGE HIS MIND. AS THE SPANIARDS MADE NO SIGN OF YIELDING, THE AMERICAN GUNNERS LENGTHENED THEIR RANGE, AND OUR SHELLS BEGAN FALLING WITHIN THE SPANISH FORTIFICATIONS.

TOMORROW—THE CAPTURE OF MANILA.

Firpo And Hybert Stage Great Fight

Battle From Bell To Bell; Judges Split On Decision And Referee Gives Fight To Hybert; Draw Or Shade To Firpo Is Decision Of "The News"; Curley, Gibbons And Newman Win; Ecke Wins But Receives Draw In Bout With O'Hara

By ED FRITZ

Fandom which has been asking the question "How good is Firpo?" last night was served with a delightful dish of pugilistic fodder at Jolly bowl when Floyd Hybert of Ashtabula and Young Firpo, Louisville "executioner", fought ten vicious rounds.

It was a fight from start to finish and a battle in which everything but kicking was permissable. The judges split on the decision and the vote of Referee George Chip awarded the fight to Hybert but a draw or shade to Firpo would have been a more accurate decision.

The crowd went to Jolly bowl last night to see a fight and they witnessed one. A percentage of the fans also went there hoping to see Firpo knocked cold and prone and they were partisan from start to finish and therefore witnessed the fight through dark glasses.

The writer holds no brief for Firpo but he is entitled to fandom's fairness and inasmuch as the writer suggested Hybert as Firpo's opponent and Promoter Jolly made the match the writer is in a position to speak his piece, impartially.

There is no question but that some of the fans would like to see boys from the Cleveland stable beaten, but they at least should not be razzed and Firpo last night stood up, fought back and when the going in some rounds was against him, kept pegging away.

And Hybert? He lived up every iota to his reputation which preceded him and Bill Jolly can be given credit for bringing on a fighter, one who acts as though he would like to have fight served for breakfast, dinner and supper.

Won Ninth Big.

According to my score sheet, in which the points of boxing and not razzing or cheering are recorded, all of the rounds were even but the fourth, eighth and ninth. Hybert took the fourth while Firpo won the eighth and took the ninth by a big margin.

It was in the fourth that Hybert, who excelled at close range, gave Firpo an extra sized beating around the body. He drove Firpo to the ropes then sent him into a corner. In fact he made Firpo wince from the body beating.

Firpo fought at long range and excelled in this style thruout the fight and in the eighth had Hybert's head flying back from left jabs and rights to the jaw and in the ninth he gave Hybert a mighty good beating around the jaw with rights.

"Firpo sent a right to the jaw then another. Hybert ripped a left to Firpo's jaw. They slugged to the stomach. They appear tired. Firpo missed and Hybert drove Firpo with a left to the corner but Firpo took the round."

That was the round in which everyone expected to see Hybert go down but he didn't and in the tenth they fought like wildcats and when the decision was given it met with a roar of applause because Firpo until the decision had won all his awards here won and one man's opinion goes only as good as that of the other man.

The decision as recorded with the state boxing commission was as follows: Jones, Firpo; Davis, Hybert, and Referee Chip, Hybert. The Firpo element claim he won, likewise Hybert's supporters. A good draw or shade to Firpo is the opinion of the writer.

The mastodonic circus staged was not a great performance, due to their bulk, phlegmatic movements. Of coruse their gestures were appreciated but one match was uneven and a foul cut short another.

Steve Curley, Cleveland, won from Ed Gibbons, Duquesne, in four rounds. Gibbons was on the floor several times. Jack O'Hara, Zanesville, 176½, waltzed around Bill Ecke, 190, McConnellsville, wouldn't fight and lost the decision in another four round bout, though the judges called it a draw.

Nick Newman, Cleveland, scored a knockout over Bert Pitt, Zanesville, in the first round. Pitt went down three times to take knee stops and when he took a left hook to the stomach stayed down the fourth time. He was no match for Newman who is a good fighter.

Frank Sims, 202, Zanesville, lost on a foul to Dick Gibbons, 190, Duquesne, Pa., in the second round. The referee counted Gibbons out but following an examination by the bowl physician, Larry Gent, deputy boxing commissioner, awarded the fight to Gibbons on a foul.

Doctor Finds Evidence.

In the first round Sims landed left hooks dangerously near the groin and the writer had no difficulty in seeing the punches. In the second, during a clinch, Gibbons slipped to the floor and Chip counted Gibbons out.

He was examined and evidence of a foul found by the physician. However, his cup, or aluminum protector, was not dented, leaving the supposition that a lifted knee may unintentionally have struck the cup sending its edge into Gibbons' groin.

The main bout was a real fight and it would be a splendid idea to rematch Firpo and Hybert in view of the diversified opinion. Both have proved their worth. Firpo is good at long range. Hybert is a great infighter. Both can sock. What better can a fan want? None.

Rematch Hybert-Firpo.

Hybert is a grand fighter and Firpo is good. The writer suggested to Promoter Bill Jolly last night that Hybert and Firpo be rematched. There is a difference of opinion as to who

Strong Crawford County Eleven To Play New Castle High Here Saturday

HOGAN-WEBER TO BEAR WATCHING

By "BUGS" WALTHER.

Meadville High football team, claimants to the 1927 Northwestern Pennsylvania championship will oppose New Castle High grid team at Franklin field on Saturday afternoon.

The Crawford county team this year has won two games and tied one. Union City and Corry High have fallen victims and Farrell High held the Meadville boys to a 0-0 deadlock.

The New Castle High team is in fine condition and the red and black warriors are hopeful of making it four straight on Saturday.

Praises New Castle.

C. W. Johnson, sports editor of the Meadville Tribune has the followin to say regarding the New Castle-Meadville game here this week:

Meadville High stands a big chance to gain sudden fame and notoriety when it journeys to New Castle to play a team that year after year has been recognized as the best in Western Pennsylvania.

Coach Tippin's youngsters have a mighty good chance, too, and the general expectation is that the down-staters will be held to a close score. The Red and Black has much potential strength, more than has been shown in any of its games to date and Saturday will be an ideal moment to reach the peak of the season.

MAHAN, BRICKLEY?—CRIMSON HOPE

Enthusiastic Harvard football followers see a resemblance in the backfield running and punting of Tommy Gilligan, Harvard back, left, to the way the immortal Eddie Mahan used to do those things for the dear old school at Cambridge, Mass. Likewise, the goal kicking abilities of Joe Potter, Harvard toe artist, right, is likened to those of Charles Brickley, another Crimson gridiron god of the past.

ST. FRANCIS TEAM NEXT WESTMINSTER OPPONENT

Game To Be Played At Greensburg, Pa., Saturday Afternoon

Tech Stars Coaching Both Teams; Teams Believed Nearly Even

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 9.—Despite two defeats in the first two games of the season, the Westminster football team is pointing to Saturday's game with St. Francis at Greensburg with enthusiasm.

The fact that St. Francis was able to hold the strong Grove City team to a 7-7 tie on Saturday makes the job of defeating the Saints much harder than was thought, but Beede's men plan to journey to Greensburg with the intention of avenging last year's 3-0 defeat at the hands of the Saints.

The St. Francis game, originally scheduled for Johnstown, was shifted to Greensburg at the request of Robert K. Koutouch post of the American Legion, under whose auspices it is being staged. Legion officials claim that more than 10,000 tickets have been sold for the tilt, and since there are no other grid attractions in Westmoreland county that day a record crowd is expected.

This game on Saturday will bring together two teams coached in essentially the same style of play. "Dyke" Beede of Westminster is a former Carnegie Tech fullback of note, while Bill Donohue, St. Francis coach, starred as a half back at Tech.

With the same team that last year defeated Westminster, St. Francis will give the United Presbyterians plenty of opposition. While Beede has essentially the same outfit as last year, three freshmen on the varsity in Forsha, Fuller and Pipoly have strengthened the U. P.'s considerably.

The Westminster squad plans to leave New Wilmington next Friday morning for Greensburg, and it is thought that a large group of followers will accompany the squad. Local fans, while disappointed that the Allegheny stalwarts were not defeated Saturday, are enthusiastic over the play of the Westminster outfit and predict that it will be on the winning side next Saturday at Greensburg.

Yankees Are Real Record Breakers

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9.—Where world's records are involved the Yankees are like a lot of school boys. They'd rather break a record than eat regularly.

And they's doing it in this series. Here are a few:

They've broken all records for gate receipts in a single game.

They have established a new attendance record for sportman's park.

They have established a world's record for consecutive world series victories.

They have established a new world series record for the lowest percentage of men left on bases.

Lou Gehrig, with another game to go, has tied the record for runs driven in a single series.

All they need to complete the list is a victory today and a four game cleanup for the second consecutive year.

Joie Ray Signs Contract To Run For Tex Rickard

Famous American Runner Deserts Amateur Ranks To Run Against Egyptian

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Joie Ray, American winner of the Talltaeen games marathon, Monday entered the ranks of professional athletes when he signed a contract to run against Olympic marathon, in Tex Rickard's "International Marathon" on October 21 at Madison Square Garden.

Announcement of the contract came from Rickard's offices in New York. It is reported that Ray will receive $5,000 for his participation in the race.

Class B Colleges Adopt New Ruling

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 9.—The elevation of some of the state Normal schools to the classification of colleges has caused the Thi-State College conference to add to its eligibility code in the clause regarding "tramp athletes."

The migratory rule requires that players, transferring from one college to another, maintain a one-year residence before competing in athletic activity. The ruling was amended to [illegible] the teachers' colleges and junior colleges. It was passed [illegible] being here of the Thi-State Conference colleges, Geneva, Westminster, Thiel, Waynesburg, Duquesne and Bethany.

Frosh Medics Team

FULLER ♦ GUARD

One of the outstanding first-year players on the Westminster grid team in recent years is Richard Fuller, captain of the Erie Central High team two years ago. Fuller, a guard, early demonstrated that he was varsity material this fall and has kept the varsity guard berth through the training season and games.

Allegheny Loses Pair Of Gridders Via Injury Route

John Lyden, Giant Tackle, And "Ronnie" McKay, Quarterback, Are Injured

MEADVILLE, Pa., Oct. 9.—Allegheny College paid dearly for its victory over Westminster last Saturday, for two regulars were injured and will be out of the game for several weeks. John Lyden, 205 pound tackle, received a broken collar bone and Ronaid McKay, who has been performing brilliantly at quarterback, had a bone broken in his hand.

Coach Merritt was very much disappointed in the playing of his team in the first half of Saturday's contest. In the second half, however, the team hit its stride and showed power and class that could not be denied. In the last half of the game Verano, Berger and Garbarck simply could not be stopped. They tore through the Westminster line for gains ranging from five to fifteen yards and interspersed these gains with long and short completed forward passes.

Allegheny will be greatly handicapped in its game with Dartmouth next Saturday because of the loss of Lyden and McKay. The quarterback job will be the hardest for Coach Merritt to fill and at this time it is uncertain just who will take McKay's place.

Trade School To Play Union Team

New Castle Trade School Team Trains Hard For Game With Union High

The New Castle trade school football team will meet the strong Union high team at Scotland Lane on Friday afternoon.

Coach Brown is drilling the trade school for a victory over Union. The New Wilmington high team defeated the trade school eleven in the first game of the season, and since that time Coach Brown has smoothed over the rough spots.

Union high gave a fine exhibition at Sewickley last Friday by holding the powerful Sewickley high team to a 6-6 tie. Coach Burnham is priming the Scotland Laners for a victory in the battle Friday.

Proctor, the big trade school fullback, is suffering with an injured knee and may not get in the Union high game. Coach Brown is grooming Boyd to replace Proctor.

My Career Is About To End Says Jack Dempsey, Is Worried By Future

Former Famous Heavyweight Champion Realizes Career Is On Waning Period

"I Will Have Money And Health, But Nothing To Do", Says Noted Puncher

(Editor's Note: This is the first of three human interest stories based on an interview with Jack Dempsey.)

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1928, by International News Service.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Jack Dempsey revealed in an exclusive interview Monday that he expects to be at the "cross roads" of his glamorous career in just about a year. He will have $1,000,000 or more but no job, and he recoils at the idea of being an unemployed millionaire.

He will be 34 years old in another year, perhaps an actor no longer, and he will be through forever with the ring. He will be seriously asking himself the question:

"What will I do?"

Will Be Restless.

He will have wealth, robust health, fame no doubt, friends galore and a loyal and talented wife but he will be like a fish out of water. Money isn't everything with Jack. He will be eager and restless to do something worth while but, as he rather plaintively explained Monday, he will find himself untrained for business and unfitted for a professional career.

"I will be starting all over again, a graduate of the college of hard knocks, and ambitious to succeed in some worth while line of endeavor," said the former heavyweight champion of the world. "What I will do I frankly don't know but I'm giving it plenty of thought. I'm going to try hard and I think I'll make good."

Dempsey figures he has just about a year to go as an actor. Part of that time in the play in which he is starring on Broadway, and the rest making a "talkie" or two. Producers are after both Dempsey and his wife, the dark-eyed, attractive Estelle Taylor, to do a talking motion picture or two. After that, Dempsey wonders—what?

Talks of Past.

The affable and unassuming exchampion not only frankly discussed his uncertain future but chatted entertainingly about his past. Among other things he said:

1—That Tex Rickard is the "outstanding personality" he has ever met.

2—That the "biggest thrill" of his sensational career to him was when he knocked out Jess Willard in Toledo, O., on July 4, 1919, and won the championship.

3—That big hairy-chested Luis Firpo of the Argentine came nearer to knocking him out than any other man.

4—That he likes the public.

5—That he feels perfectly at home with prize fighters, actors and newspaper men.

6—Exercise is his hobby.

7—That football is his favorite sport.

The writer met Dempsey in front of the Savoy Plaza hotel as he was hailing a taxi. "Hop in," said Jack, and after parking his feet on the seat ahead, said: "Shoot!"

"How do you like being an actor?" he was asked.

"I rather like it—it isn't bad. I'm in there trying."

"The critics say you're good."

"Not all of them," smiled Jack.

"Are you going to make acting your life vocation—planning to be a second James J. Corbett?"

Likes His Acting.

"No, I'm afraid I'll never be as good an actor as Jim Corbett," replied Dempsey. "Still I don't thing I'm nopeless or anything like that. And I'm learning. Some parts of my show I play very natural. I feel at home chatting in the Times Square barber shop in the first act and I'm really myself when I strip to tights and climb through the ropes in the last act. But in act two they make me sit like a dumb bell and listen to my manager and a gambler talk about me throwing a fight. It wouldn't be natural for me to sit there so dumb. I'd get the idea quicker. And instead of doing what I do in the show I'd get up and sock somebody on the button. When I act I like to act natural. I've just got to be myself, even on the stage."

It was at this juncture that Dempsey said he believed he had about a year to go as an actor and that he would then be at the cross roads of his career.

(Tomorrow Dempsey lists the five best heavyweights in the ring today and tells of the three greatest personalities he has met in his spectacular career.)

The president again demonstrates his superiority to ordinary men by remembering his wedding anniversary, but then he can pin it to the calendar by the world series.—The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette.

MEN WHO GUARD THEIR HEALTH SMOKE CIGARS

90% of the Principal Executives of the New York Stock Exchange are Cigar Smokers

La Palina is America's Largest Selling High Grade Cigar [OVER A MILLION A DAY] its outstanding popularity is the best proof of its unusual quality

AS a result of a survey, it has been ascertained that 90% of the principal executives of the New York Stock Exchange smoke cigars—men of their standing, confronted with their daily responsibilities, must keep themselves mentally and physically fit.

A cigar is smoked for taste—not to gratify a mere nervous habit. So it is smoked slowly—one is not lighted from the butt of another, nervously or hurriedly.

To quote a prominent New York throat specialist: "The principal reason for throat troubles amongst smokers is the burning, drying effect of hot tobacco smoke upon the tender tissues of the throat. Cigar smoke is cool, since it burns slowly and is further cooled and filtered as it is drawn through the body of the cigar, hence a cigar has no tendency to irritate the throat."

Make this test for a week—smoke cigars exclusively and you will find yourself feeling better, with no cough or throat irritation, improved nerves, increased vitality and less of that tired feeling.

To really test cigars with justice to yourself and to cigars, we suggest the test be made with La Palinas—America's largest selling high-grade cigar—over a million a day.

Cards To Face Crisis In Game Today, Must Overcome Bad Play

Manager McKechnie To Send Sherdel Back To Face Yankee Sluggers

Waite Hoyt Or Johnson To Get Pitching Assignment In Today's Game

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 9.—Playing out their string, like the inevitable gambler who is down to his ultimate chip, the St. Louis Cardinals will stake their all on the turn of the wheel this afternoon in the fourth game of the world series. Three times the wheel has turned to the black markers, but the Cards' bets were riding on the red. Three times have the New York Yankees raked in the pot. One more today and the Cards will be cleaned out and the series no longer a contest if, indeed, it ever was. Only twice before in world series history has a club won four consecutive games and, if the Yankees win today, they will show just how silly the competition has become. They will have won successive world's series in successive games.

Hitting Features

Two men, Ruth and Gehrig, have made this situation possible by their hitting. No other man on the ball club, barring the pitchers has contributed much more than his official presence. Yet the Yanks, as a club, have outclassed the Cardinals and it is possible that they have done so because their conviction is that they will win. The Cards apparently are just as thoroughly convinced that they will lose and, in the course of time it seems possible that this notion will be sustained in to-to.

The populace, however, is not altogether open to suggestion on this point. It is hoping to the last that a miracle will be achieved and that the Cards, getting away with a belated victory this afternoon, will start winning and forget to stop. They die very hard in this town. The Cards may lose, but you never beat a St. Louis ball fan.

It might seem that such devotion to a losing cause must be rewarded some time, and perhaps that time will come before nightfall. They were going to pitch Willie Sherdel, who can still the Yankee war clubs but can't beat the Yankee team. But here again the good old law of averages will be working for the Cards. If it didn't seem plausible that the Yanks could win eight straight ball games from successive National League champions, neither did it seem possible that a pitcher like Willie Sherdel is to continue taking it on the countenance from one ball club indefinitely.

Sherdel should be right for this emergency, since yesterday's postponement granted him the boon of an extra day of rest. However, that situation is cut down the middle by the fact that Waite Hoyt, probable nominee for the other guys, has had as much rest and is the kind of an egg who never needed a lot of it.

Still the lads who make book have quoted odds of 4 to 5, meanwhile letting the player take his choice. If their quotations say the Cards figure to be an equal shot for this particular game, then it can be written in the social register that this probably is quite as it should be.

At that, Huggins may hold Hoyt back another day and shoot with Henry Johnson just because he can afford to gamble.

A victory for the Yankees, even under these circumstances, might be taken for granted by the many who have come to believe that the Yanks can't go wrong anywhere in this series.

Just what a victory for the Cards this afternoon will do for this town can only be surmised. Fifteen thousand people forfeited a Saturday half-holiday to acclaim a loser upon its return from its reverses on the eastern front. A record crowd of more than 42,000 watched it lose in disorganized ineptitude on Sunday. Yesterday they stood in the rain waiting for a game that would not be played, a game that seemed likely to end it all, anyhow.

The same situation existed this morning, but St. Louis, game to the end, promised to turn up present to the number of 35,000.

Richard M. Brown a center, who started every game played by the University of Iowa grid squad in the last two years, captains the outfit this season.

Sidelights On World's Series

By LES CONKLIN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9.—The yanks got the first break of the series when Wilson dropped a throw to the plate on Sunday and the St. Louis hotel proprietors got the second break when it rained yesterday. The bed and board moguls will now enjoy the pleasure of soaking tourists double rates for an extra night's lodging.

Due to the corner on the mattress market, late comers were forced to invade the outlying suburbs to obtain quarters. These commuters get back to their rooming houses from the park just in time to start back for the next game.

The extra day almost ruined Sam Breadon who is providing free grub and gingerale for visiting newspaper men. The scribes are eating up the profits like an absconding cashier.

The owner of the St. Louis club runs an automobile agency here, but as yet his expert mechanics have been unable to get the carbon out of the Cardinals valves.

It is learned that reporters, clad in St. Louis uniforms, have been sitting on the Cardinal bench with the regular players. A possible alibi for the sad showing of the Red Birds is that by mistake the scribes have been out there playing instead of the regulars.

After winning three straight, the Yanks were stopped by Jupiter Pluvious. Why not put Jupe in there instead of the Cards?

With three teeth missing Lou Gehrig has rolled up a batting average of .556 for the first three games. The "toothless terror" is thinking of having all his molars extracted.

"When is the New York pitching staff going to crack? queries a sports writer. Answer that one and we'll tell you how many eggs there are in a boarding house omlet.

Jess Haines was merely living up to his reputation when he took French leave in a rage after Wilson's errors had gummed up the works in Sunday's game. The leather-faced Ohio mechanic gets angrier than any other pitcher in the majors at the mistakes of his teammates.

Flint Rhem is almost as touchy as big Jess in this respect. Once this season he hurled a bag of resin at Thevenow when the latter committed an atrocious bobble. Maybe it's just as well for Wilson that no bats were within Haines' reach when Jimmy made his double error.

Ruth, sliding into Wilson, looked like Herb Joesting cracking a line. The Babe will make a pro football player yet.

Bengough isn't overly fond of fast ball pitching. Against Haines he looked like a pedestrian enroute to a collision with an automobile.

ROCCO TO FIGHT AT YOUNGSTOWN

Emmett Rocco and Joe Sekyra, heavyweights, will fight ten rounds, Wednesday night at the Rayen-Wood auditorium, Youngstown, according to reports here. Ellwood City fans will follow Rocco to the fight. Sekyra is a more experienced battler than Rocco and Emmett will enter the ring with betting odds against him.

Probe Witnesses Face Indictment, Gardner Asserts

Witnesses With "Faulty Memories" Are Liable To Arrest Says Gardner

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 9.—Witnesses who appear before the grand jury investigating charges of police-protected graft and corruption, with "faulty memories" will be recommended for indictment in the grand jury presentment, District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner, conducting the investigation indicated today.

It is estimated that on this basis, more than 100 are already threatened with indictment.

A new angle of investigation was promised by the district attorney today as the jury turned its attention to Pittsburgh's alleged "tenderloin district"—the northside.

Sixty witnesses, most of whom are from the northside, were summoned to appear before the grand jury today.

Gardner revealed he had received an anonymous letter in which, he said, were listed 22 disorderly houses on the northside. The letter charged that these houses were operated in collusion with police.

Threaten Recall Of Heffernan

Voters' League Members Ask Youngstown Mayor To Answer Charges

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 9.—In a letter received Monday afternoon by Mayor Joseph L. Heffernan from the Non-Partisan Voters League, he is asked to answer charges made against him by A. J. Aubrey, discharged water commissioner, or voluntarily resign.

In case the mayor does not answer Aubrey's charges, or resign, the league, according to its statement, will circulate petitions for the mayor's recall.

Mayor Heffernan has just returned from a three-week vacation in the east, having left shortly after removing Aubrey from office. Charges by the deposed official were characterized by the mayor as "rubbish," following which the W. C. T. U. asked that the mayor refute the charges or make some sort of a statement. The mayor declared Monday night he would not issue another statement.

Aubrey had charged that Mayor Heffernan used city jobs to pay political debts and that a dope peddler was operating "within a stone's throw of City Hall."

Aimee McPherson Greeted By Small Crowds In London

Woman Evangelist Not Discouraged By Lack Of Interest Shown By British

(International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 9—Contrary to forecasts the revival meetings of Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson are not being attended so well as had been expected. Mrs. McPherson's "four square gospel" and her personality have failed to attract the crowds that were anticipated.

London newspapers claim that the religious meetings held so far in Royal Albert hall have been a failure.

However, Mrs. McPherson is not disappointed.

"I have faith that London will respond to my message," said she. "I came here for a holy work and I am certain that I will be successful. I am not discouraged by the publicity that has been directed against me."

Mrs. McPherson is being assisted by an Irish evangelist.

State Department Asks Information On Newspaper Man

Secretary Kellogg Takes Personal Interest In Detention Of Correspondent

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9—The French foreign office has been requested by the state department, through the American Embassy in Paris to investigate and submit full information on the detention of Harold J. T. Horan, Universal Service correspondent by the Paris police it was declared at the department today.

Secretary of State Kellogg has taken a personal interest in the matter and is closely watching the developments, it was said. The department is withholding further action pending a report from the embassy.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The leading industrial, motor car and specialty stocks were extremely irregular at the beginning of trading today. The blowing up of a few of the pools in the low-priced specialties brought prices down 3 to 6 points below Monday's high prices, while new forwards were started in other sections of the list. With brokerage houses reporting "distribution" on a large scale selling pressure was decidedly pronounced in a few of the market favorites.

Denial of the merger rumors affecting Pressed Steel Car and Universal Pipe halted the enthusiastic forward move in these stocks, but United Cigar Stores came forward to take an active part in the proceedings of the day with a new high of 33 in a heavy turnover. Freeport Texas settled down to a still lower price level around 53.

There was little or no change in general business and industrial conditions. The call loan rate was unchanged at 6½ per cent., but reported loans at 6 per cent., were negotiated in the outside market. The selling wave in the motor stocks had apparently spent its force near the end of the first hour, and recoveries had already been under way in Chrysler, Hupp, Hudson, Studebaker and General Motors.

Lathrop Street Man Injured

James Rumstay Struck By Auto While En Route To Work

OTHER ACCIDENTS REPORTED HERE

James Rumstay, 758 Lathrop street, is in the Shenango Valley hospital, in a very seriously injured condition, as a result of being struck this morning by the automobile driven by Carl Peretti, 207 South Jefferson street. The accident occurred at the Hobart street intersection of Mahoning avenue, and just after Mr. Rumstay a tin mill worker, had gotten off a south bound street car, and was crossing the street enroute to the Shenango tin plant, where he was employed.

Peretti was enroute north on Mahoning avenue at the time. The south bound street car had stopped at Hobart street and was discharging passengers.

Mr. Rumstay got off the street car, according to the statement made to the police by Mr. Peretti and started across the street, walking in front of the street car in making an effort to get to the south curb of Mahoning avenue.

He was struck by the car of Mr. Peretti as he walked from in front of the street car toward the curb, coming directly in front of the Peretti car. He was knocked down. Mr. Peretti stopped and picked up Mr. Rumstay, who was evidently quite seriously injured, and took him to the Shenango Valley hospital, where is was found that he had sustained a serious injury of the head. His condition is critical, according to the hospital authorities.

Other Accidents

C. M. Wagner, 230 North Apple Way, reported Monday that he was driving a car owned by C. R. Thomas, west on East Long avenue, across from the Levine and Miller clothing store, when a machine came out of an alley across from Levine & Miller's Store, headed west on East Long avenue. After stopping dead in the middle of the street, this car went back into the alley. Wagner stopped his machine dead and a Nash coupe, bearing Pennsylvania license 589-327 following his machine ran into the rear of it, doing considerable damage.

William H. Lewis, 107½ Blaine street, reported Monday that he was going east on West Washington street near Beaver street and had stopped for a Youngstown street car, when a machine following his car attempted to pull in between his machine and the curb. This car hit and damaged his car.

Mrs. E. M. Druschel, 614 North Liberty street reported Monday that she was driving north on McKinley street, at Mahoning avenue, and had made the safety stop. Not seeing any cars on Mahoning avenue, she pulled out and was making a left hand turn onto Mahoning avenue, when it collided with the car of Howard Catterson, 434 Galbreath avenue which was going south on Mahoning avenue. Some damage was done.

Charles Mick of Pulaski, reported Monday that he was enroute north on DuShane street when the car of Fred Monath, 1813 East Washington street backed out of a side street and into his machine, doing considerable damage.

Paul L. Humphrey, 703 West Clayton street, was driving south on Liberty street, when a machine, bearing Ohio license 217-68 going north on Orchard street, ran into and damaged his machine. Both automobiles were somewhat damaged.

Curtis Calls For Raskob To Resign

Quotes Tariff Paragraph In Gov. Smith's Acceptance Address

DEVILS LAKE, N. D., Oct. 9.—Senator Charles Curtis, the Republican vice presidential nominee, in a speech today said Gov. Alfred E. Smith had indorsed the Underwood tariff bill in his acceptance address.

He called for the resignation "before night" of John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee, who offered to resign if it could be shown that the Democratic presidential nominee had indorsed the Underwood bill.

"If Mr. Baskow or Raskob, or whatever his name is," Curtis declared, "made that statement he will resign before night. Here is what Gov. Smith said in his acceptance address: 'The Democratic party does not and under my leadership will not advocate any sudden or drastic revolution in our economic system which will cause business upheaval and popular distress.

"This principle was recognized as far back as the passage of the Underwood tariff bill. Our platform restates it in unmistakable language.

"Why was not Mr. Raskob fair enough to give the entire quotation rather than the first sentence alone? Gov. Smith indorses that measure which robbed American farmers of almost $3,000,000,000; that threw American labor out of employment; that failed to protect American industry, and that failed to bring in sufficient revenue to run the government."

LEGAL PHRASES ASIDE

"What we want to get at," said counsel in an assault case, "is who was the aggressor?"

"Eh?" said the large, bull-necked witness.

"Let me explain," said counsel, patiently. "If I met you in the street and struck you in the face, I should be the aggressor."

"You'd be an idot," answered the witness.

"No, no, you don't understand. Suppose I struck you without provocation, I should be committing an act of aggression."

"Excuse me, mister, you'd be committing suicide," declared the witness darkly.

Pure Bred Sire Train Will Come Here November 9

Local Committees Make Arrangements For Day's Program In New Castle

TRAIN TO BENEFIT LOCAL DAIRYMEN

Plans are underway by the local committees for the Better Dairy Sires train which will reach New Castle Friday, November 9, according to the announcement of Fred L. Rentz, chairman of the joint committees for Lawrence county.

This train which will be loaded with some 60 head of pure bred Holstein, Jersey and Guernsey sires will stop at approximately 25 towns in Western Pennsylvania.

In New Castle, the stop will be made at 8:30 a. m., and the train will remain in the city until noon. The lecture hour will be 10:30 o'clock. Local farm clubs, Chamber of Commerce, Pennsylvania State College, Department of Agriculture, State Chamber of Commerce, and various cattle associations are listed among the sponsors of this train.

The train is concerned primarily with the ways and means of reducing the cost of milk production. The purpose of the train will be to carry pure bred sires along in order that the dairymen may purchase such an animal at the least cost and with no inconvenience. The endeavor being made to show the dairyman that a pure bred sire is worth more than the scrub and that this will automatically raise the production of milk.

Various speakers nationally known as experts in the cattle and agricultural realm will be with the train and will speak to the gatherings of interested dairymen. An extensive program is being arranged by the local committee for the day.

The New Castle committee is composed of Fred L Rentz, general chairman; Ira Ramsey, president of the Chamber of Commerce, James W. Cole, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; N. E. Sampson, Volant; J. A. Boak, R. D. 4, New Castle; and W. H. McCullough, New Galilee. The latter three men are members of the Agricultural Extension association in the county.

WHAT DO YOU READ?

If we haven't read a book or two on evolution, it is better not to express an opinion on evolution. If we are short on information procured by the direct method, better stay in the listening class. If we haven't time to read we are leading a badly disordered life. A man or women who finds no time to read in all the 24 hours of the day is hardly finding life worth living. And his system of management is terrible.

WHAT'S THE MATTER?

A series of articles has been seen in the newspapers recently under the title: "What's the Matter With Marriage?"

Perhaps the answer is, "Nothing." The matter is with some people. It might be said, more seriously, that what is often called the matter with marriage is really a problem of training, of discipline, of racial inheritance. Marriage is an idea and an ideal. It is an idea and an ideal worth trying to realize.

A NEW DEPARTMENT

There is an unwieldiness and an unworkableness in large bodies. The president's cabinet should not be much larger. The fact is, nevertheless, that the importance of the enormous educational projects in this country is such that the matter of a department of education ought to receive the most earnest consideration. If the department of the navy and of war could be united, as has been wisely suggested, a secretary of education could take his place in the cabinet without increasing the total number.

ALIBIS

Most pleas of "I'm too busy" are simply alibis for not doing what one does not want to do. Wouldn't we be happier all around if we adopted the custom of saying "I do not want to do this thing because I do not believe in it," or "I do not care to," or "I am too lazy" rather than say what we really do not mean?

Have you ever noticed that few of us are ever too busy to do what we really want to do?

SUSPICION

Do you remember that old proverb which says "there is nothing which makes a man suspect more than to know little?" The passing of gossip, the bandying about of baseless rumor, is like sifting cyanide into the air. It is like dealing carelessly in deadly poison. It kills reputation, it destroys character, it works the most tragic injustice on the innocent.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

One of the best cures for discontent, for those who think they have tough jobs is to talk to a returned missionary who has seen service in some heathen country. In my experience as a newspaper man I have interviewed missionaries from up under the Arctic Circle, from down on the Equator, from India, Africa, China, Japan, Siam, Russia, Abyssinia and I almost said from the Heathen interior of Chicago.

They are a strange folk, the missionaries. Quiet, soft spoken, and self sacrificial they suddenly take on a burning enthusiasm when they begin talking of their work. Their pay is meagre, and they do not always get that, they buck what appear to be insuperable odds, and yet they go back and back to the fields, ready to work until some strange disease carries them off.

Met two young missionaries from the French Congo last night, Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Seymour. Mrs. Seymour didn't always carry that name. When H. F. Thompson taught a gang of youngsters down in the Grace M. E. some twenty years ago, Mrs. Seymour was just a little mite of a girl named Linda.

After completing high school she attended the Practical Bible School in Binghampton, N. Y., and there met the chap who was to take her out to Africa as his wife. He didn't hold out any ideas about ten room bungalows with sunken gardens, and upholstered automobiles, but both of them were interested in something else, the saving of the heathen.

If there are any people in the whole world who really enter a work for the love of it, it is the missionary to heathen lands. Out where the Seymours were two things are certain, you won't get much money and you will get malaria. In addition you stand a very good chance of getting an infected tse-tse fly making a lunch off you and contracting the dread sleeping sickness.

They don't frighten easily, these missionaries. Wild animals, snakes, disease and privation are ahead of them, but they go. And who knows, while they may never know the pleasures offered by a civilized country, they get a satisfaction from their work which may compensate them.

And while missionaries are being discussed it seems to me that a word about this man Thompson wouldn't be amiss. When the day comes that he answers roll call on the other side it does seem to me that the Supply Sergeant will have a special crown and harp laid aside for him.

There are a lot of young fellows around this town who owe a lot to his teaching in the Grace M. E. Sunday School and the engineer of this colyum is proud to be included in this crowd. He had a hard bunch to handle, and many a time no doubt he was tempted to start a wholesale head breaking. But he didn't and if that crowd of Indians kept him on his toes then, he should know that now they have come to manhood, one of the bright spots of their boyhood was that class he taught.

Nor is that all. One of his own boys, Roy is in the Methodist ministry, Kathryn is married to a minister, Linda is the wife of an African missionary, and Lloyd is one of the pillars of the Grace M. E. Twenty two youngsters call him grandfather, and I would still hate to take a chance with him in a physical encounter.

Women's Society Has Memorial For Late Mrs. Foulke

Mrs. Neigh Entertains Missionary Women Of First M. E. Church At October Meeting

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church met for the October meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. F. S. Neigh of Milton street, who presided during the afternoon.

After the opening song, "The King's Highway", devotions were led and prayer offered by Mrs. James Drake. The subject for discussion was "The Unused Vote". The keynote being "Every woman of principle will come out and vote." The devotional hour closed by the singing of America.

The usual missionary program was carried out with Mrs. J. L. Stratton reviewing the first chapter of the new study book, "Friends in Africa," which was very interesting. Mrs. Neigh spoke of the goals to be attained this year.

A special feature of the meeting was an impressive memorial service for the late Mrs. C. W. Foulke, an honored member of the society for many years, which was in charge of Mrs. Martha Ketler. A number of brief eulogies were given. Mrs. Stratton spoke of Mrs. Foulke "As a Minister's Wife"; Mrs. Drake, "As a Neighbor"; Mrs. Weaver, "What She Meant to the Church"; Mrs. Baer, "What She Meant as a Co-workers" and Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Kile, "What She Meant as a Teacher." At the close of the memorial service Mrs. Neigh sang very effectively "A Home on High."

During the business session the treasurer, Miss Newlon, reported $96.15 sent to the conference treasurer. Money received from all sources during the year with a balance from last year amounted to $1224.22.

The following committees were appointed: Interdenominational, Mrs. Stratton and Mrs. Kile. Department secretaries: Evangelism, Mrs. Drake; stewardship, Mrs. Stratton; temperance, Mrs. Ketler; extension, Mrs. Whittaker; mite box, Miss Ella Long; subscription, Mrs. Henley; mystery box, Mrs. Stritmater; press, Mrs. Whittaker.

At the conclusion of the meeting an informal social time was enjoyed at which time a delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Ketler and Mrs. Weaver.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. H. C. Weaver, Clenmore boulevard, the first Friday in November.

Grove City Church Elders Are Elected

United Presbyterian Church Elects Both Elders And Deacons At Meeting

GROVE CITY, Pa., Oct. 9.—At a recent meeting of the United Presbyterian church, the following elders were chosen for five years; Thomas McMasters, Frank Taft, and J. T. McCory.
